workforce development networks by combining qualitative and quantitative data as well as considering various actors Collaborative models of training are found to provide a strong incentive for employers to increase their investment in job training reduce the risk and cost of training and improve the flow of information in local labor markets The author also describes the critical role community based organizations play by broadening the available training and providing stronger ties with employers and workers He concludes that workforce development policy needs to recognize the importance of grassroots organizations in job training and build institutional support for their activities The new data and analyses will be of great interest to academics working in the area of rural and workforce development Community and workforce development practitioners as well as human resource managers will appreciate the concrete suggestions for policy and practice
