Medicine and Empire Pratik Chakrabarti, 2013-12-13 The history of modern medicine is inseparable from the history of imperialism Medicine and Empire provides an introduction to this shared history spanning three centuries and covering British French and Spanish imperial histories in Africa Asia and America Exploring the major developments in European medicine from the seventeenth century to the mid twentieth century Pratik Chakrabarti shows that the major developments in European medicine had a colonial counterpart and were closely intertwined with European activities overseas The increasing influence of natural history on medicine The growth of European drug markets The rise of surgeons in status Ideas of race and racism Advancements in sanitation and public health The expansion of the modern quarantine system The emergence of Germ theory and global vaccination campaigns Drawing on recent scholarship and primary texts this book narrates a mutually constitutive history in which medicine was both a tool and a product of imperialism and provides an original accessible insight into the deep historical roots of the problems that plague global health today African Medical Pluralism William C. Olsen, Carolyn Sargent, 2017-02-27 In most places on the African continent multiple health care options exist and patients draw on a therapeutic continuum that ranges from traditional medicine and religious healing to the latest in biomedical technology The ethnographically based essays in this volume highlight African ways of perceiving sickness making sense of and treating suffering and thinking about health care to reveal the range and practice of everyday medicine in Africa through historical political and economic contexts South African Horror Cinema Calum Waddell, 2025-08-21 This is the first study to explore South Africa both in horror cinema and as a formidable producer of celluloid scares From framing the notorious apartheid system as a mental asylum in the ground breaking and criminally underseen Jannie Totsiens Jans Rautenbach 1970 to such seventies exploitation shockers as The Demon Percival Rubens 1979 through to the blockbuster hit District 9 Neill Blomkamp 2009 and beyond this book suggests that South Africa should finally obtain its rightful place in the canon of wider genre studies and horror cinema fandom Taking in the 80s nightmares of Darrell Roodt and concluding with an analysis of the recent boom period in South African fright films including discussion of such contemporary efforts as The Tokoloshe Jerome Pikwane 2018 and the Troma esque leanings of Fried Barry Ryan Kruger 2020 South African Horror Cinema focuses on ever changing identities and perspectives and embraces the frequently carnivalesque and grotesque elements of a most unique lineage in macabre motion pictures Health, Healing and Illness in African History Rebekah Lee, 2021-02-11 In this book Rebekah Lee offers a critical introduction to the diverse history of health healing and illness in sub Saharan Africa from the 1800s to the present day Its focus is not simply on disease but rather on how illness and health were understood and managed by healthcare providers African patients their families and communities Through a sustained interdisciplinary approach Lee brings to the foreground a cast of actors institutions and ideas that both profoundly and intimately shaped African health experiences and outcomes This book guides the reader through a wide range of historical source material and highlights the theoretical and methodological innovations which have enriched this scholarship Part One delivers a concise historical overview of African health and illness from the long pre colonial past through the colonial period and into the present day providing an understanding of broad patterns of major disease challenges experiences of illness and local and global health interventions and their persistence or transformation across time Part Two adopts a case study approach focusing on specific health challenges in Africa HIV AIDS mental illness tropical disease and occupational disease and their unfolding across time and space Health Healing and Illness in African History is the first wide ranging survey of this key topic in African history and the history of health and medicine and the ideal introduction for students

Surfacing Up Lynette Jackson, 2018-08-06 Focusing on the history of the Ingutsheni Lunatic Asylum renamed a mental hospital after 1933 situated near Bulawayo in the former Southern Rhodesia Surfacing Up explores the social cultural and political history of the colony that became Zimbabwe after gaining its independence in 1980 The phrase surfacing up was drawn from a conversation Lynette A Jackson had with a psychiatric nurse who used the concept to explain what brought African potential patients into the psychiatric system Jackson uses Ingutsheni as a reference point for the struggle to domesticate Africa and its citizens after conquest Drawing on the work of Frantz Fanon Jackson maintains that the asylum in Southern Rhodesia played a significant role in maintaining the colonial social order She supports Fanon's claim that colonial psychiatric hospitals were repositories for those of indocile nature or for those who failed to fit the social background of the colonial type Through reconstruction and reinterpretation of patient narratives Jackson shows how patients were diagnosed detained and deemed recovered She draws on psychiatric case files to analyze the changing economic social and environmental conditions of the colonized the varying needs of the white settlers and the shifting boundaries between these two communities She seeks to extend and enrich our understanding of how a significant institution changed the way citizens and subjects experienced the colonial social order

The African AIDS Epidemic John Iliffe, 2005-02-15 This history of the African AIDS epidemic is a much needed accessibly written historical account of the most serious epidemiological catastrophe of modern times The African AIDS Epidemic A History answers President Thabo Mbeki's provocative question as to why Africa has suffered this terrible epidemic While Mbeki attributed the causes to poverty and exploitation others have looked to distinctive sexual systems practiced in African cultures and communities John Iliffe stresses historical sequence He argues that Africa has had the worst epidemic because the disease was established in the general population before anyone knew the disease existed HIV evolved with extraordinary speed and complexity and because that evolution took place under the eyes of modern medical research scientists Iliffe has been able to write a history of the virus itself that is probably unique among accounts of human epidemic diseases In giving the African experience a historical shape Iliffe has written one of the most important books of our time The African experience of AIDS has taught the world much of what it knows about HIV AIDS and this fascinating book brings into focus many aspects of the epidemic in the longer context of massive demographic growth urbanization and social change in Africa during the latter half of the twentieth century The African AIDS Epidemic A History is a brilliant introduction to the many aspects of the epidemic and the distinctive character of the virus Stereotyping Africa. Surprising Answers to Surprising Questions Fru Doh, 2009-11-01 Characteristically Africans in any Western country are asked so many different questions about Africa as Westerners love to refer to the many countries that make up that huge continent as if Africa were a single nation state So one begins wondering why it is that Africans on the other hand do not refer to individual European countries as Europe simply then the trends and consequences of stereotyping begin setting in just as one is getting used to being asked if Africa has a president or if one can say something in African It is some of these questions that Emmanuel Fru Doh has collected over the years and has attempted answering them in an effort to shed some light on a continent that is in many ways like the rest of the world when not better but which so many love to paint as dark backward chaotic and pathetic
