African Feminism Gwendolyn Mikell,1997 This book is the best thing I've seen on the question not only of feminism in its African articulation but also more generally on the question of how feminism emerges and what it means to those who espouse it Joan Scott Institute for Advanced Study Princeton

Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse

Nwachukwu Frank Ukadike,2014-02-27 Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse utilizes an interdisciplinary approach to lay bare the diversity and essence of African cinema discourse It is an anthology of historical reflections critical essays and interviews by film critics historians theorists and filmmakers that signifies a dialogue and engagement apropos the ideology and cultural politics of film production in Africa The contributors are extremely concerned not only with the history of African cinema but with its future and its potential This book then is not limited to the expansion of the discourse on African cinema but tries to approach the definition of the critical canon within the exigencies and manifestations of art and African sociopolitical practices The authors view these practices as an investment in a cultural imperative stemming from the quest to delineate how critical methodologies are derived from and shape contemporary historical and cultural practices Hence the contributions are less about the usual constrictive method of analysis and more about illustrating manifestations of an interrogative critical methodology that is certainly an offspring of an indigenous African critical cum cinematic culture and paradigms

The Politics of Gender Reform in West Africa Ludovic Lado,2023-04-15 This anthropological study offers a crucial contribution to scholarly debates about the making of African modernity by considering the implementation and reception of gender reform in the West African context Historically attempts at implementing gender reform in West Africa have been met with suspicion Beyond the perception that such reforms subvert traditional structures of authority and community many worry that these efforts are inextricably connected to Western imperialism and colonialism Ludovic Lado's The Politics of Gender Reform in West Africa examines the politics of a legislative process entirely driven by the state and meant to narrow the gender gap in Ivorian society Lado discusses the legislative processes by which states have sought to reduce the gender gap between men and women probes the potential impact of this reform on the condition of women by exploring the practice of civil marriage in Abidjan and assesses the reception of the reform among Catholics and Muslims in Cote d'Ivoire Throughout this readable and engaging study Lado examines how the relationship between secular powers and religious authorities has determined the direction gender reforms have taken Although the predominant focus in this text remains on gender reforms in Cote d'Ivoire Lado also discusses their correlates in Niger Senegal and Mali He shows that the success or failure of gender reforms in West Africa has relied on the interaction of various power relationships that structure the international national local religious and domestic arenas within which West Africans go about their lives The book concludes with an informed reflection on the relationship among religions the state and gender reforms that highlights some of the issues at stake in the domestication of hegemonic modernity in Africa

The Politics of Biography in Africa

Anaïs Angelo, 2021-08-31 Bringing together historians political scientists and literary analysts this volume shows how biographical narratives can shed light on alternative little known or under researched aspects of state power in African politics Part 1 shows how biographical narratives breathe new life into subjects who upon decolonization had been reduced to silence women workers and radical politicians The contributors analyze the complex relationship between biographical narratives and power questioning either the power of biographical codes peculiar to western colonial origins or the power to shape public memory Part 2 reflects on the act of auto biography writing as an exercise of power one that blurs the lines between truth and invention Auto biographical narratives appear as politicized ambiguous stories Part 3 focuses on female leadership during and after colonization exploring on how women gained lost or reinvented power Brought together the contributions of this volume show that the function of biographical narratives should no longer oscillate between romanticized narratives and historical evidence their varied formats all offer fruitful opportunities for a multidisciplinary dialogue This book will be of interest to scholars from various disciplinary backgrounds working on the African postcolonial state the decolonization process women s and gender studies and biography writing Democracy and the Rise of Women's Movements in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen M. Fallon, 2008-08-08 Despite a late and fitful start democracy in Africa Latin America and Eastern Europe has recently shown promising growth Kathleen M Fallon discusses the role of women and women s advocacy groups in furthering the democratic transformation of formerly autocratic states Using Ghana as a case study Fallon examines the specific processes women are using to bring about political change She assesses information gathered from interviews and surveys conducted in Ghana and assays the existing literature to provide a focused look at how women have become involved in the democratization of sub Saharan nations The narrative traces the history of democratic institutions in the region from the imposition of male dominated mechanisms by western states to latter day reforms that reflect the active resurgence of women s political power within many African cultures to show how women have made significant recent political gains in Ghana and other emerging democracies Fallon attributes these advances to a combination of forces including the decline of the authoritarian state and its attendant state run women s organizations newly formed constitutions and newfound access to good governance funding She draws the study into the larger debate over gendered networks and democratic reform by exploring how gender roles affect and are affected by the state in Africa Latin America and Eastern Europe In demonstrating how women s activism is evolving with and shaping democratization across the region Democracy and the Rise of Women s Movements in Sub Saharan Africa reveals how women s social movements are challenging the barriers created by colonization and dictatorships in Africa and beyond Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2016-03-04 African women s history is a vast topic that embraces a wide variety of societies in over 50 countries with different geographies social customs religions and historical situations Africa is a predominantly agricultural continent and a major factor in African agriculture is the central role of women as farmers It is estimated that between 65 and 80 percent of African women are engaged in cultivating food for their families and in the past that percentage was likely even higher. Thus one common thread across much of the continent is women's daily work in their family plot. This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa contains a chronology, an introduction, appendixes, and an extensive bibliography. The dictionary section has over 700 cross-referenced entries on individual African women in history, politics, religion, and the arts; on important events, organizations, and publications; and on topics important to women in general: marriage, fertility, employment, and to African women in particular: market, women's child, marriage, queen mothers. This book is an excellent access point for students, researchers, and anyone wanting to know more about the Women in Africa.

Politics of the Womb Lynn M. Thomas, 2003-08-20 In Thomas's skilled hands and in her unabashed love of story telling, intimate events in Kenya help us think more clearly and more critically about Africa in the twentieth century. The politics of the womb are at the core of the colonial experience and of colonial politics. Africans struggled amongst themselves over the regulation of reproduction and these layers of intimate strife and the policies and protests emanating from London and mission hospitals and African homesteads give us something we haven't had before: a gendered and transnational colonial history.

Literary and Visual Representations of HIV/AIDS Aimee Pozorski, Jennifer J. Lavoie, Christine J. Cynn, 2019-11-06 Literary and Visual Representations of HIV/AIDS: Forty Years Later depicts how film and literature about the HIV/AIDS crisis expand upon the issues generated by the epidemic. This collection fills an important gap in the scholarship on HIV/AIDS by bringing together essays by both established and junior scholars on visual and literary representations of HIV/AIDS. Almost forty years after the first reported cases of what would later be defined as AIDS, this book looks back across the decades at works of literature and film to discuss how the representation of HIV/AIDS has shifted in media. This book argues that literature constitutes a very powerful response to AIDS that ripples into film and politics, driving the changes in past and contemporary representations of HIV/AIDS. The book also expands discussion of the issues generated and amplified by the epidemic to consider how HIV/AIDS has been portrayed in the United States, Western and Southern Africa, Western Europe, and East Asia.

Africa and the Americas Richard M. Juang, Noelle Morrisette, 2008-03-12 This encyclopedia explores the many long-standing influences of Africa and people of African descent on the culture of the Americas while tracing the many ways in which the Americas remain closely interconnected with Africa. Ranging from the 15th century to the present, Africa and the Americas: Culture, Politics, and History explores the many ways Africa and African peoples have shaped the cultural life of the Americas and how, in turn, life in the Americas reverberates in Africa. This groundbreaking three-volume encyclopedia offers hundreds of alphabetically organized entries on African history, nations, and peoples, plus African-influenced aspects of life in the Americas. It also features authoritative introductory essays on history, culture, and religion; demography; international relations; economics and trade; and arts and literature. In doing so, it traces the complex and continuous movement of peoples of African descent to the West the mechanics and lingering effects of colonialism and the slave trade and the crucial issues of cultural retention and adaptation that are essential to our understanding of the effects of globalization

Women's Leadership in Popular Culture Tracy Everbach, Gwendelyn S. Nisbett, Newly Paul, 2025-10-02

This edited volume examines mass media portrayals of women leaders and other powerful women in popular culture

Contributors argue that increased media visibility and representation can lead to more widespread acceptance of women as societal leaders The book employs an interdisciplinary intersectional and international approach to its coverage of these portrayals and their meanings for society and gender norms Through a feminist lens contributors examine these cultural representations within the context of gender race sexuality and social class economic status Contributors write from varied disciplinary backgrounds including journalism media studies communication entertainment studies sociology psychology anthropology political science information science business and education
