Molefi Kete Asante, Ama Mazama

African Laughter:

African Laughter Doris Lessing, 2009-06-30 A highly personal story of the eminent British writer returning to her African roots that is brilliant and captures the contradictions of a young country New York Times Book Review A rich and penetrating portrait of Lessing's homeland African Laughter recounts the visits she made to Zimbabwe in 1982 1988 1989 and 1992 after being exiled from the old Southern Rhodesia for 25 years for her opposition to the minority white government Lessing uses memory and reminiscence with recent experience to depict a country in the process of change

Encyclopedia of African Religion Molefi Kete Asante, Ama Mazama, 2009 Collects almost five hundred entries that cover the African response to spirituality taboos ethics sacred space and objects The Challenge of African Potentials Ofosu-Kusi, Yaw, Matsuda, Motoji, 2020-02-22 This collection of articles is based on presentations and discussions at the 2018 African Potentials Forum held in Accra Ghana This forum was a part of the African Potentials Project which aims to clarify the latent problem solving abilities ways of thinking and institutions that have been created accumulated unified and deployed in the everyday experiences of Africans The notion of Africa's latent power potential is not related to romanticisation of the traditional knowledge of African society and its institutions as fixed essentialised magic wands This notion also raises objections against political dogmas that seek to smoke out and eliminate thought and values originating in Western modernity The keyword of the Accra Forum was futurity Africa's future is laden with possibilities latent power and potential It is bright and hopeful but simultaneously bleak and thought provoking For nascent democracies and economically challenged communities the value of this potential lies not in its static qualities but in how these qualities can be harnessed and translated into beneficial practical outcomes As a concept potential connotes a time to come a futurity that is full of known and unknown possibilities challenges and opportunities Journal of the African Society African Society, 1901

Postcolonial African Writers Siga Fatima Jagne, Pushpa Naidu Parekh, 2012-11-12 This reference book surveys the richness of postcolonial African literature The volume begins with an introductory essay on postcolonial criticism and African writing then presents alphabetically arranged profiles of some 60 writers including Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Doris Lessing Tsitsi Dangarembga Tahbar Ben Jelloun among others Each entry includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes that appear in the author's writings an overview of the critical response to the author's work and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources These profiles are written by expert contributors and reflect many different perspectives The volume concludes with a selected general bibliography of the most important critical works on postcolonial African literature Migratory Settings, 2015-06-29 Migratory Settings proposes a shift in perspective from migration as movement from place to place to migration as installing movement within place Migration not only takes place between places but also has its effects on place in place In brief we suggest a view on migration in which place is neither reified nor transcended but thickened as it becomes the setting of the variegated memories imaginations dreams fantasies nightmares anticipations and idealizations of both migrants and native inhabitants that experiences of migration bring into contact with each other Migration makes place overdetermined turning it into the mise en scene of different histories Hence movement does not lead to placelessness but to the intensification and overdetermination of place its heterotopicality At the same time place does not unequivocally authenticate or validate knowledge but shot through with the transnational and the transcultural exceeds it ceaselessly Our contributions take us to the migratory settings of a fictional exhibition a staged political wedding a walking tour in a museum African appropriations of Shakespeare and Sophocles Gollwitz Germany Calais France the body after a heart transplant refugees family portraiture a garden in Vermont the womb With contributions by Mieke Bal Maaïke Bleeker Paulina Aroch Astrid van Weyenberg Sarah de Mul Annette Seidel Arpacı Sudeep Dasgupta Wim Staat Maria Boletsi Griselda Pollock Alex Rotas and Murat Aydemir

My Faith as an African Jean-Marc Ela, 2009-05-01 At a time when Africans like other peoples are facing the shock of technological and cultural modernity liberation of the oppressed must be the primary condition for an authentic inculturation of the Christian message This is the central axis of the papers in this book which begins with the questions of faith posed by cultural variables an internal dimension of the African's condition In order to understand what is at stake we need to place these matters in the overall context of a society and a history marked by conflicts which lead to a rereading of our African memory The basic issue of the Credibility of Christianity is being raised from within the dynamic which allows Africans to escape from the inhumanity of the destiny to which certain factors would condemn them So critical reflection on the relevance of an African Christianity requires us to identify the structures or strategies of exploitation and impoverishment against which Africans have always struggled finding their own specific forms of resistance within their cultures

The Undergraduate's Companion to African Writers and Their Web Sites Miriam E. Conteh-Morgan, 2005-10-30 Now a firmly established part of world literature course offerings in many general education curricula African literature is no longer housed exclusively with African Studies programs and is often studied in English French Portuguese Women's Studies and Comparative Studies departments This book helps fill the great need for research materials on this topic presenting the best resources available for 300 African writers These writers have been carefully selected to include both well known writers and those less commonly studied yet highly influential They are drawn from both the Sub Sahara and the Maghreb the major geographical regions of Africa The study of Africa was introduced into the curriculum of institutions of higher learning in the United States in the 1960s when the Black Consciousness movement in the United States and the Cold War and decolonization movements in Africa created a need for the systematic study of other regions of the world Between 1986 and 1991 three Africans won Nobel literature prizes Soyinka Mahfouz and Gordimer and the visibility of African writers increased They are now a firmly established part of world literature courses in many general education curricula throughout North America African Writers is meant to serve as a resource for introductory material on 300 writers from 39 countries These writers were selected on the basis on two criteria that there is material on them in an easily available reference work and that there is some information of research value on free Web sites Each writer is from the late 19th or 20th century with the notable exception of Olaudah Equiano an 18th century African whose slave narrative is generally considered the first work of African literature All entries are annotated
