Afrobets Activity And Enrichment Guide First About Africa:

A New Narrative for Africa Abiodun Alao, 2019-11-27 This book examines the perception of Africa in the global system tracing Africa's transition from a problem to be solved into an agent with a rising voice in the world. Mixing Afro optimism with heavy doses of Afro reality and Afro responsibility, this book calls for a new political narrative about Africa that captures the multi-disciplinary dimensions of Africa's transition and critically examines its ramifications. The author discusses the origins of the Problem perception held about Africa and explains how things are turning around and how the continent is now becoming a voice to be heard rather than a problem to be solved. He then goes on to interrogate some of the key manifestations of this new voice and identifies how the world is responding to the new voice of Africa before finally examining some of the contradictions that have been embedded in the transition. The book is strategically multi-disciplinary, emphasizing key disciplines of African studies in different chapters: for example, anthropology, ethnography, and philosophy in Chapter 1; history in Chapter 2; economics in Chapter 3; politics in Chapter 4; arts, literature, and aesthetics in Chapter 5; religion in Chapter 6; and globalization in Chapter 7. Through this A New Narrative for Africa, explores and analyses several of the various strands of the African studies discipline, examining the transformation of African on the global stage over the course of its history. Taking an interdisciplinary approach, this book will be of interest across African Studies, Global Affairs, Politics, Economics, and Development studies.

Trends in African Popular Music Ikenna Emmanuel Onwuegbuna, 2015-07-25 Popular music, an acculturative product of the African folk music, scrutinized along the lines of musical and social processes as inseparable pair in developing the various genres of the eclectic musical form. In Nigeria, it is the congruent collaboration of creativity and politico-socio-economic activities of the mid 1940s, the period following the World War II, that evolved the various genres of popular music of the land. The process that is still in being. The social processes that span through the diverse fields of economics, politics, linguistics, sociology, philosophy, and religion made up a manifold agency of acculturation, commercialization, urbanization, and class stratifications. Similarly, the musical processes emanating from the folk musical practices of conception, composition, and classification of genres, recruitment of group members, and administrative personnel training, packaging, costuming, and aesthetics, and then the performance proper, are carried over into a parallel development of a neo-folk form that became popular. The popularity of the new form is due to a socio-musical interchange that is both structural and functional. The peculiar nature of the product of this new musical expression, therefore, presents four possible angles for definition. The definitions could be stylistic, sociological, process, or theory-based. The genres developed include highlife, afrobeat, rock, calypso, disco, hip hop, rhythm and blues, funk, and reggae. However, the star feature of this investigation is the Afro reggae genre of Nigeria. The primary research process of survey was backed up by historical and descriptive methods to unearth the leaning on the rhythm of social life by popular music artistes to develop the African reggae genre, especially in Nigeria.
