The International Spread of Ethnic Conflict David A. Lake, Donald Rothchild, 2020-10-06 The wave of ethnic conflict that has recently swept across parts of Eastern Europe the former Soviet Union and Africa has led many political observers to fear that these conflicts are contagious Initial outbreaks in such places as Bosnia Chechnya and Rwanda if not contained appear capable of setting off epidemics of catastrophic proportions In this volume David Lake and Donald Rothchild have organized an ambitious sophisticated exploration of both the origins and spread of ethnic conflict one that will be useful to policymakers and theorists alike The editors and contributors argue that ethnic conflict is not caused directly by intergroup differences or centuries old feuds and that the collapse of the Soviet Union did not simply uncork ethnic passions long suppressed They look instead at how anxieties over security competition for resources breakdown in communication with the government and the inability to make enduring commitments lead ethnic groups into conflict and they consider the strategic interactions that underlie ethnic conflict and its effective management How why and when do ethnic conflicts either diffuse by precipitating similar conflicts elsewhere or escalate by bringing in outside parties How can such transnational ethnic conflicts best be managed Following an introduction by the editors which lays a strong theoretical foundation for approaching these questions Timur Kuran Stuart Hill Donald Rothchild Colin Cameron Will H Moore and David R Davis examine the diffusion of ideas across national borders and ethnic alliances Without disputing that conflict can spread James D Fearon Stephen M Saideman Sandra Halperin and Paula Garb argue that ethnic conflict today is primarily a local phenomenon and that it is breaking out in many places simultaneously for similar but largely independent reasons Stephen D Krasner Daniel T Froats Cynthia S Kaplan Edmond J Keller Bruce W Jentleson and I William Zartman focus on the management of transnational ethnic conflicts and emphasize the importance of domestic confidence building measures international intervention and preventive diplomacy

Free People Tricia Gates Brown, 2005-11-01 AT ONCE AN INTRODUCTION TO GLOBAL ECONOMICS AND a Christian ethical examination of it Free People looks at one of the most pressing challenges facing followers of Jesus today How does one love God and neighbor while enmeshed in a globalized economy where our lives are networked with and impact the lives of people all around the world Written in a highly readable style this book defines global economics in terms a non economist can appreciate and describes how the global economy dominates people from sweatshop workers in Bangladesh to coffee farmers in Central America to citizens of northern democracies The second half of the book offers a fresh look at biblical insights on wealth and its usage and at the New Testament concept of principalities and powers Finally Free People suggests ways for Christians to live humanly in these times by looking at the lives of specific people who in simple practical ways resist the dehumanizing power of global economics

European Cinema Jill Forbes, Sarah Street, 2017-03-05 The survival of cinema in Europe and the analysis of its heritage are key issues for the new century This book asks how we can define European cinema and how it should be studied It provides an overview of the problems traditions and key questions that have informed the study of European cinema investigating the links and tensions between Europe and Hollywood and exploring the different experiences of national identities within a common European framework Twelve case studies of individual European films ranging from The Battleship Potemkin and The Lodger to La Haine and Trainspotting illustrate the distinctiveness and variety of cinema in Europe as well as the various critical methods by which it can be studied With its detailed analysis of films from several European countries including Britain and Russia the book encourages a comparative approach and raises urgent questions about the future of European cinema in the context of globalization It will be of interest to students in Film Studies European Studies and Modern European Languages and Cultures
