Textbook of Surgical Oncology Graeme J. Poston, Daniel Beauchamp, Theo Ruers, 2007-11-15 Surgery alone cures more than 60% of those patients whose cancer are amenable to curative treatment Surgical oncology is not universally accepted as a unified discipline worldwide There are many reasons for this situation including the drive to anatomic site specialization but also the need to provide comprehensive general surgical provision to more isolated and rural communities Textbook of Surgical Oncology written by a highly acclaimed list of international authors comprehensively covers the role of the surgical oncologist in the management of patients with solid tumors This book provides a state of the art review of cancer surgery for senior residents approaching certification at the completion of their training as well as providing an up to date reference work for established clinicians in their day to day practice including those in general surgery surgical oncology urologists gynecologists thoracic neurosurgical radiation oncologist and medical oncologists

Plastic Surgery for the Oncological Patient Björn Behr, Adrien Daigeler, 2016-09-26 The development of plastic surgery techniques allows for preserving and reconstruction of function after resection of malignant tumors From split thickness skin grafts to pedicled and free tissue transfer multiple techniques are at hand to restore body integrity Sufficient soft tissue coverage allows for adjuvant radiation therapy or can cure its sequelae Nerve tendon and muscle transfers are used to regain motor function of the extremities Even large bony defects can be treated by microsurgically transferring fibula pelvic and femoral bone In case main vessels need to be resected reconstruction is possible with autologous and artificial grafts By means of plastic surgery thoracic and abdominal defects can be covered so that foremost unresectable tumors become curable Unfortunately the knowledge of these techniques is not very popular with oncologic surgeons Therefore we suggest as a clinical topic the role of reconstructive surgery in the multimodal treatment of oncologic patients The focus will be on different areas of the body therefore articles for reconstructural procedures at the head the extremities the trunk the thoracic wall the breast and the foot will be invited Another focus will be the role of reconstructive procedures in the multimodal treatment concept consisting of radiation and chemotherapy as well By knowing and applying the opportunities of plastic surgery the quality of life of the oncologic patient can be significantly improved
