Contemporary Approaches to Baltic Linguistics

Peter Arkadiev, Axel Holvoet, Björn Wiemer, 2015-08-17 This book is a collection of articles dealing with various aspects of the Baltic languages Lithuanian Latvian and Latgalian which have only marginally featured in the discourse of theoretical linguistics and linguistic typology The aim of the book is to bridge the gap between the study of the Baltic languages on the one hand and the current agenda of the theoretical and typological approaches to language on the other The book comprises 13 articles dealing with various aspects of phonology morphology syntax semantics lexicon and their interactions plus a lengthy introduction whose aim is to outline the state of the art in the research on the Baltic languages The contributions are data driven being based on field work corpus research and data published in the sources not accessible to the general linguistic audience On the other hand all contributions are informed in the relevant contemporary linguistic theories and in the advances of linguistic typology Some of the contributions aim at a more detailed accurate and theoretically informed description of the data others look at the Baltic material from a more theoretical point of view still others assume an areal typological or contact perspective

The Languages and Linguistics of Europe Bernd Kortmann, Johan van der

Auwera, 2011-07-27 Open publication The Languages and Linguistics of Europe A Comprehensive Guide is part of the multi volume reference work on the languages and linguistics of the continents of the world The book supplies profiles of the language families of Europe including the sign languages It also discusses the areal typology paying attention to the Standard Average European Balkan Baltic and Mediterranean convergence areas Separate chapters deal with the old and new minority languages and with non standard varieties A major focus is language politics and policies including discussions of the special status of English the relation between language and the church language and the school and standardization The history of European linguistics is another focus as is the history of multilingual European empires and their dissolution The volume is especially geared towards a graduate and advanced undergraduate readership It has been designed such that it can be used as a whole or in parts as a textbook the first of its kind for graduate programmes with a focus on the linguistic and linguistics landscape of Europe

The Linguistics of Temperature

Maria Koptjevskaja-Tamm, 2015-02-11 The volume is the first comprehensive typological study of the conceptualisation of temperature in languages as reflected in their systems of central temperature terms hot cold to freeze etc The key issues addressed here include questions such as how languages categorize the temperature domain and what other uses the temperature expressions may have e g when metaphorically referring to emotions warm words The volume contains studies of more than 50 genetically areally and typologically diverse languages and is unique in considering cross linguistic patterns defined both by lexical and grammatical information The detailed descriptions of the linguistic and extra linguistic facts will serve as an important step in teasing apart the role of the different factors in how we speak about temperature neurophysiology cognition environment social cultural practices genetic relations among languages and linguistic contact The book is a significant contribution to semantic typology and will be of interest for linguists psychologists anthropologists and philosophers
