Renaissance Vision from Spectacles to Telescopes Vincent Ilardi, 2007 Deals with the history of eyeglasses from their invention in Italy ca 1286 to the appearance of the telescope three cent later By the end of the 16th cent eyeglasses were as common in western and central Europe as desktop computers are in western developed countries today Eyeglasses served an important technological function at both the intellectual and practical level not only easing the textual studies of scholars but also easing the work of craftsmen small bus During the 15th cent two crucial developments occurred the ability to grind convex lenses for various levels of presbyopia and the ability to grind concave lenses for the correction of myopia As a result eyeglasses could be made almost to prescription by the early 17th cent Illus The Painted Closet of Lady Anne Bacon Drury H.L. Meakin, 2017-07-05 Lady Anne Bacon Drury 1572 1624 was the granddaughter and niece of two of England's Lord Keepers of the Great Seal Sir Nicholas Bacon and Sir Francis Bacon Lady Anne was also the friend and patroness of John Donne and Joseph Hall however she deserves to be remembered in her own right Within her massive country house Lady Anne created a tiny painted room that she seems to have used as a kind of three dimensional book The walls consisted of panels of pictures and mottoes grouped under Latin sentences These panels can still be viewed in a Suffolk museum Christchurch Mansion in Ipswich Some panels point to classical and Biblical sources and to popular emblem books The sources of other panels are more recondite while still others are original compositions by Lady Anne The panels exhibit a contemptus mundi theme and reflect a struggle with ambition pride and even despair Some panels also appear to register carefully veiled but pointed critiques of political and religious events and figures Lady Anne's painted closet or architext is thus relevant to a wide range of early modern scholarship in various disciplines but is as yet largely unappreciated For the first time in four hundred years this book fully describes the closet and places it in its personal social intellectual and aesthetic contexts It argues for the painted closet s importance for understanding early modern conceptualizations of private and public spaces and for illuminating fundamental early modern habits of seeing and reading especially combinations of text and image Finally this book explores the closet as an example of the ingenious ways in which female subjectivity found ways to express itself even within the constraints of early modern patriarchal society in England

Technology, Self-Fashioning and Politeness in Eighteenth-Century Britain A. Withey,2015-12-03 The second half of the eighteenth century brought important changes in attitudes towards shaping the body New expectations of polite conduct deportment and demeanour were projected onto the body with emphasis laid upon neatness elegance and a natural body shape Deformities were to be concealed whilst bodily surfaces were managed to convey a harmonious whole A large number of technologies of the body were involved in this process including wooden legs elastic trusses and even wigs But the introduction of a new type of steel cast steel around 1750 offered new material possibilities for shaping the body The physical properties of steel transformed the design and function of many instruments from postural devices to spectacles and even the smallest daily items of toilette By no means was steel the only material involved in transforming the body Neither did it simply sweep away all that had gone before But as an enlightened metal cast steel was a key material in the refinement of the body

The Artless Jew Kalman P. Bland,2001-07-02 Conventional wisdom holds that Judaism is indifferent or even suspiciously hostile to the visual arts due to the Second Commandment s prohibition on creating graven images the dictates of monotheism and historical happenstance This intellectual history of medieval and modern Jewish attitudes toward art and representation overturns the modern assumption of Jewish iconophobia that denies to Jewish culture a visual dimension Kalman Bland synthesizes evidence from medieval Jewish philosophy mysticism poetry biblical commentaries travelogues and law concluding that premodern Jewish intellectuals held a positive liberal understanding of the Second Commandment and did in fact articulate a certain Jewish aesthetic He draws on this insight to consider modern ideas of Jewish art revealing how they are inextricably linked to diverse notions about modern Jewish identity that are themselves entwined with arguments over Zionism integration and anti-Semitism Through its use of the past to illuminate the present and its analysis of how the present informs our readings of the past this book establishes a new assessment of Jewish aesthetic theory rooted in historical analysis Authoritative and original in its identification of authentic Jewish traditions of painting sculpture and architecture this volume will ripple the waters of several disciplines including Jewish studies art history medieval and modern history and philosophy known They therefore had a dimension of spectacle to them as the volume demonstrates Against this backdrop the different chapters deal with a plethora of spaces and spatial installations the Wunderkammer the spectacle garden cosmoramas and panoramas the literary space the temporary museum and the alternative exhibition space The Oxford Handbook of Sport and Spectacle in the Ancient World Alison Futrell, Thomas Francis Scanlon, 2021 Examines the history of ancient sport and spectacle in Greece and Rome as well as issues of class civic contexts spaces health gender and sexuality Blends Greek and Roman topics to illuminate tensions and complementarities between different social and political contexts Authoritative scholars present novel insights and new avenues of research to give readers contemporary interpretations of Greek sport and Roman spectacle Book jacket
