A Taste for Luxury in Early Modern Europe Johanna Ilmakunnas, Jon Stobart, 2017-06-29 Jon Stobart and Johanna Ilmakunnas bring together a range of scholars from across mainland Europe and the UK to examine luxury and taste in early modern Europe In the 18th century debates raged about the economic social and moral impacts of luxury whilst taste was viewed as a refining influence and a marker of rank and status This book takes a fresh comparative approach to these ideas drawing together new scholarship to examine three related areas in a wide variety of European contexts Firstly the deployment of luxury goods in displays of status and how these practices varied across space and time Secondly the processes of communicating and acquiring taste and luxury how did people obtain tasteful and luxurious goods and how did they recognise them as such Thirdly the ways in which ideas of taste and luxury crossed national political and economic boundaries what happened to established ideas of luxury and taste as goods moved from one country to another and during times of political transformation Through the analysis of case studies looking at consumption practices material culture political economy and retail marketing A Taste for Luxury in Early Modern Europe challenges established readings of luxury and taste This is a crucial volume for any historian seeking a more nuanced understanding of material culture consumption and luxury in early modern Europe Clement of Alexandria and the Judgement of Taste J. M. F. Heath, 2024-04-22 Clement of Alexandria and the Judgement of Taste Pedagogical Rhetoric and Christian Formation provides a new account of Clement of Alexandria's Paedagogus as a programme in the formation of the judgement of taste situating it in critical dialogue with modern approaches to the judgement of taste and aesthetics The book's key questions are framed in light of Pierre Bourdieu's Distinction 1979 a landmark in twentieth century scholarship on the theory of taste J M F Heath studies Clement's rhetoric and theology in the context of the Christian Second Sophistic when Christians were experimenting with new ways of inhabiting the rhetorical and philosophical culture of the Greco Roman world The Paedagogus shows Clement's pedagogical method and rhetorical strategy at the early stages of Christian formation when his audience are not yet ready for abstract philosophical argument This was a time for forming people's habits of judgement and preferences of taste so as to ground their daily lives in deeper desires and aversions that are structured through a relationship with God This was an immensely important stage of Christian formation many people never got beyond this to any sort of philosophical curriculum and yet through engaging the tastes of a wide audience Christian leaders sought to spread the gospel and succeeded in doing so Even for the intellectual elites personal formation through preferences of taste was part of how they embodied their desire for God and the way they inhabited it through the sacramental and ascetic life of the church Bourdieu's sociological and anthropological approach proves fruitful for understanding aspects of Clement's rhetorical method and purpose but the study of Clement's theological rhetoric in its cultural context also in turn points the way to a theological response to Bourdieu's theory of taste The Encyclopaedia Britannica James Louis Garvin, Franklin Henry Hooper, Warren E. Taste for Change Gaël Giraud, Carlo Petrini, Stefano Arduini, 2025-07 A new paradigm for developing a sustainable solution for the economy and the food chain A Taste for Change argues that civil society must take the initiative to create a new paradigm of existence that centers on the common good ecological transition and active involvement in the development of a sustainable solution for the economy and the food chain Giraud and Petrini engage with the revolutionary concepts captured in Pope Francis's recent encyclicals centering on the Earth based spirituality of Saint Francis of Assisi This deep exploration of surrounding food systems indigenous wisdom economic structures and politics is based on the premise that the ecological transition urgently needs to be accelerated to avoid the most dramatic consequences of the climate crisis Academics students and activists from a wide array of disciplines will find A Taste for Change a dialogue worthy of careful consideration and an inspiring call to action After Taste Slavko Kacunko, 2021-06-03 After Taste is an inquiry into a field of study dedicated to the reconsideration reconstruction and rehabilitation of the concept of Taste Taste is the category whose systematic historical and actual dimensions have traditionally been located in a variety of disciplines The actuality and potential of the study is based on a variety of collected facts from readings and experiences which materialize in the following features One concept figurative Taste two thinking traditions analytic and synthetic continental and three interrelated dimensions systematic historic and actual are presented in three parts or volumes As such the study presents a salient comprehensive companion for wider readership of humanities approaching conceptions of Taste for the first time Moreover After Taste is intended for anyone who hopes to make a further contribution to the subject Since its appearance and apparently short triumph some 250 years ago the concept of non literary Taste remained the linchpin of aesthetic theory and practice but also a category outreaching aesthetics Taste as the personal unity of the production theory and criticism of art and literature which was still largely taken as a given in the eighteenth century has meanwhile given way to a highly differentiated art world in which aesthetic discourse is placed in such a way that it can seemingly no longer have a conceptual or linguistic effect on general opinion making After Taste fills the gaps of systematic research by a comprehensive tracing of the emergence of the doctrines discourses and disciplinary dimensions of Taste up to the peak of its systematic and historical trajectory in the eighteenth century and onwards into the present day The guiding goal is a post disciplinary rehabilitation of the contested category as a preparation for its productive usage in emerging academic and popular contexts It shows how the category of Taste became the foundation legitimation and the catalyst for the emerging division of labour faculties and disciplines confirming the hypothesis of the immense impact and actuality of Taste in the contemporary world
