A Study Of The Logic Of Teaching:

A Study of the Logic of Teaching Bunnie Othanel Smith, 1970 A Study of the Logic of Teaching, 1960* A Study of the Logic of Teaching, 1973 Second Handbook of Research on Mathematics Teaching and Learning Frank K. Lester, 2007-02-01 The audience remains much the same as for the 1992 Handbook namely mathematics education researchers and other scholars conducting work in mathematics education This group includes college and university faculty graduate students investigators in research and development centers and staff members at federal state and local agencies that conduct and use research within the discipline of mathematics The intent of the authors of this volume is to provide useful perspectives as well as pertinent information for conducting investigations that are informed by previous work The Handbook should also be a useful textbook for graduate research seminars In addition to the audience mentioned above the present Handbook contains chapters that should be relevant to four other groups teacher educators curriculum developers state and national policy makers and test developers and others involved with assessment Taken as a whole the chapters reflects the mathematics education research community's willingness to accept the challenge of helping the public understand what mathematics education research is all about and what the relevance of their research findings might be for those outside their immediate community

A Logical Theory of Teaching C.J.B. Macmillan, James W. Garrison, 2012-12-06 happens how it happens and why it happens Our assumption ought to be that this is as true in education as it is in atomic physics But this leaves many other questions to answer The crucial ones What kind of science is proper or appropriate to education How does it differ from physics What is wrong with the prevailing virtually unopposed research tradition in education What could or should be done to replace it with a more adequate tradition What concepts are necessary to describe and explain what we find there It is in this realm that we find ourselves Where to start One place our place needless to say is with one limited but central concept in education teaching A long philosophical tradition concerned with the nature of teaching goes back along with everything else to Plato divulging most recently in the work of such philosophers as B O Smith Scheffler Hirst Komisar Green McClellan Soltis Kerr Fenstermacher et al An empirical tradition runs parallel to the philosophers it has its most notable modern proponents in Gage the Soars Berliner Rosen shine but its roots can be traced to the Sophists These two traditions have been at loggerheads over the centuries

A Conception of Teaching Nathaniel L. Gage, 2009-04-05 The literature of the behavioural and social sciences is full of theory and research on learning and memory Teaching is comparatively a stepchild neglected by those who have built a formidable body of theories of learning and memory However teaching is where learning and memory theory should pay off A Conception of Teaching dedicates a chapter to each of the following important components the need for a theory the possibility of a theory the evolution of a paradigm for the study of teaching a conception of the process of teaching a conception of the content of teaching a conception of students cognitive capabilities and motivations a conception of classroom management and the integration of these conceptions Written in a highly accessible style while maintaining a base in research Dr Nathaniel L Gage presents A Conception of Teaching with clarity and well situated within current educational debates A Study in Chinese Principles of Education Monlin Chiang, 1925 Research in Education , 1968 A Study of Mathematical Education Including the Teaching of Arithmetic Benchara Branford, 1924 Living Rhetoric and Composition Duane H. Roen, Stuart C. Brown, Theresa Jarnagi Enos, 1998-11 Approximately 20 short personal narratives that trace the history of the composition and rhetoric field describe its current state and relate the journeys of the contributing authors through the discipline
