A Southern Illinois Album Herbert K. Russell, 1990 Life on the road was anything but glamorous for Farm Security Administration photographers traveling through southern Illinois in the mid 1930s Often their most promising subjects lived at the end of the worst roads many of which lacked bridges drainage ditches or gravel Outfitted with three government issue cameras flashbulbs tripods and film processing chemicals their job was to help explain America to Americans by seeking out and photographing the one third of the nation FDR described as ill housed ill clad and ill nourished Featured in this book are more than one hundred photographs from the collection of a quarter of a million taken by FSA photographers between 1935 and 1943 These pictures capture life during the Great Depression as viewed in the coal mining towns of Herrin West Frankfort and Zeigler the river communities of Shawneetown Cairo and Grayville the farming regions near McLeansboro Newton and Harrisburg more than two dozen southern Illinois county seats hamlets and landings Together they comprise a photographic portrait of the determination hard work and capacity to find ways to celebrate life exemplified by the people of southern Illinois during one of the most difficult periods of American history FSA photographers helped to invent and popularize the documentary style a type of photography in which pictures and their arrangement carry much of the information in a story Intended to document the success of a government project these pictures survived to preserve for later generations the story of the people of southern Illinois and how they endured the difficult times of the Great Depression

A Portrait of Missouri, 1935-1943 Paul E. Parker, 2002 One tool the FSA used to defend itself against political attacks was its Photographic Section under the direction of Roy Stryker The State of Southern Illinois Herbert K. Russell, 2012-03-16 In The State of Southern Illinois An Illustrated History Herbert K Russell offers fresh interpretations of a number of important aspects of Southern Illinois history Focusing on the area known as Egypt the region south of U S Route 50 from Salem south to Cairo he begins his book with the earliest geologic formations and follows Southern Illinois s history into the twenty first century The volume is richly illustrated with maps and photographs mostly in color that highlight the informative and straightforward text Perhaps most notable is the author s use of dozens of heretofore neglected sources to dispel the myth that Southern Illinois is merely an extension of Dixie He corrects the popular impressions that slavery was introduced by early settlers from the South and that a majority of Southern Illinoisans wished to secede Furthermore he presents the first in depth discussion of twelve pre Civil War free black communities located in the region He also identifies the roles coal mining labor violence gangsters and the media played in establishing the area s image He concludes optimistically unveiling a twenty first century Southern Illinois filled with myriad attractions and opportunities for citizens and tourists alike The State of Southern Illinois is the most accurate all encompassing volume of history on this unique area that often regards itself as a state within a state It offers an entirely new perspective on race relations provides insightful information on the cultural divide between north and south in Illinois and pays tribute to an often neglected and misunderstood region of this multidimensional state all against a stunning visual backdrop Superior Achievement from the Illinois State Historical Society 2013 Chicago and Downstate Robert L. Reid, Larry A. Viskochil, 1989 The photographs in this collection drawn from the most extensive photodocumentary project ever conceived reflect the wide diversity of what has been called the nation's most representative state The renowned photographers of Roy Stryker's Farm Security Administration staff traveled throughout the state focusing on the people of Illinois at home at work at play The editors selected 162 photos for this collection from the more than 2,400 taken in Illinois by such photographers as John Vachon Russell Lee Arthur Rothstein Jack Delano Dorothea Lange Esther Bubley Theodor Jung Carl Mydans Ann Rosenor Edwin Rosskam Barnesandnoble.com

The Civilian Conservation Corps in Southern Illinois, 1933-1942 Kay Rippelmeyer, 2015-03-03 This book details the Depression era history behind the simultaneous creations of the Civilian Conservation Corps and the Shawnee National Forest in southern Illinois where enrollees at twenty-six camps worked on soil and forest conservation projects A camp compendium provides photographs the work history and company rosters of each camp Southern Illinois Coal C. William Horrell, 1995 Features 78 vivid black and white photos that record the now disappearing heritage of the coal mining industry in southern Illinois Horrell 1918-1989 was instrumental in establishing the photography department at Southern Illinois University and his work resonates with both aesthetic and social commitment His son Jeffrey provides the foreword the text by Herbert K. Russell profiles Horrell's career and gives background on the mining industry and the photos 12x11 5 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Kaskaskia David MacDonald, Raine Waters, 2019-06-06 This first comprehensive account of the Illinois village of Kaskaskia covers more than two hundred years in the vast and compelling history of the state David MacDonald and Raine Waters explore Illinois's first capital in great detail from its foundation in 1703 to its destruction by the Mississippi River in the latter part of the nineteenth century as well as everything in between successes setbacks and the lives of the people who inhabited the space At the outset the Kaskaskia tribe along with Jesuit missionaries and French traders settled near the confluence of the Kaskaskia and Mississippi rivers about sixty miles south of modern-day St. Louis The town quickly became the largest French town and most prosperous settlement in the Illinois Country After French control ended Kaskaskia suffered under corrupt British and then inept American rule In the 1790s the town revived and became the territorial capital and in 1818 it became the first state capital Along the way Kaskaskia was beset by disasters crop failures earthquakes tornadoes floods epidemics and the loss of the capital city title to Vandalia Likewise human activity and industry eroded the river's banks causing the river to change course and eventually wash away the settlement All that remains of the state's first capital today is a village several miles from the original site MacDonald and Waters focus on the town's growth struggles prosperity decline and obliteration providing an overview of its domestic architecture to reveal how its residents lived Debunking the notion of a folklore tradition about a curse on the town the authors instead trace those stories to late nineteenth-century journalistic inventions The result is a vibrant heavily illustrated and highly readable history of Kaskaskia that sheds light on the entire early history of Illinois Fluorspar Mining Herbert K. Russell, 2019-01-03 Winner ISHS Best of Illinois History Award 2019 This first ever pictorial record of the people and methods of the Illinois Kentucky Fluorspar District from the 1900s to the 1990s covers early and modern means of extracting hoisting processing and transporting the mineral from mine mouth to end user Nearly one hundred images carefully selected by author Herbert K Russell show early pick and shovel extraction and open flame lighting as well as primitive drilling methods and transportation by barrels buckets barges mule teams and trams in addition to the use of modern equipment and sophisticated refinement procedures such as froth flotation Russell also provides an overview of the many industrial uses of fluorspar from metal work by ancient Romans to the processing of uranium by scientists seeking to perfect the atomic bomb Preserving what is known about the industry by miners managers and museums this detailed and fascinating pictorial history looks both above and below ground at fluorspar mining Colonial Ste. Genevieve Carl J. Ekberg, 2014-09-24 Dr Ekberg's masterwork on the old French town south of St Louis brings into sharp focus life in colonial America Ekberg has rendered a rich portrait of community life on the most fascinating of American frontiers the composite world of French Creoles and American Indians in the Mississippi Valley This is an important book and a good read to boot That's how Yale University's John Mack Faragher praised this book America's Deadliest Twister Geoff Partlow, 2014-07-25 Winner ISHS Certificate of Excellence 2015 Disaster relief as we know it did not exist when the deadliest tornado in U S history gouged a path from southeast Missouri through southern Illinois and into southwestern Indiana The tri state tornado of 1925 hugged the ground for 219 miles generated wind speeds in excess of 300 miles per hour and killed 695 people Drawing on survivor interviews public records and newspaper archives America's Deadliest Twister offers a detailed account of the storm but more important it describes life in the region at that time as well as the tornado's lasting cultural impact especially on southern Illinois Author Geoff Partlow follows the storm from town to town introducing us to the people most affected by the tornado including the African American population of southern Illinois Their narratives along with the stories of the heroes who led recovery efforts in the years following add a hometown perspective to the account of the storm itself In the discussion of the aftermath of the tornado Partlow examines the lasting social and economic scars in the area but he also looks at some of the technological firsts associated with this devastating tragedy Partlow shows how relief efforts in the region began to change the way people throughout the nation thought about disaster relief which led to the unified responses we are familiar with today
