The Trinitarian Ethics of Jonathan

Edwards William J. Danaher,2004-01-01 Examining the theological ethics of Jonathan Edwards William Danaher Jr shows that Edwards s doctrine of the Trinity both was foundational to Edwards s thought and is the necessary framework for understanding the theological and moral vision expressed in his writings This Trinitarian interpretation identifies what distinctive contribution Edwards makes to contemporary Christian ethics particularly concerning the nature of virtue the will sin evil and love The Columbia Series in Reformed Theology represents a joint commitment by Columbia Theological Seminary and Westminster John Knox Press to provide theological resources from the Reformed tradition for the church today This series examines theological and ethical issues that confront church and society in our own particular time and place

Happiness and the Christian Moral Life Paul J. Wadell,2012-02-16 Happiness and the Christian Moral Life introduces students to Christian Ethics looking at ethics as a path to the good life and happiness rather than a strict set of rules or regulations Revised and updated throughout the second edition maintains the book s distinctive focus on happiness Each chapter now features a list of suggested readings to point students and instructors towards further resources Other changes to the second edition include a more fully developed account of Augustine s understanding of happiness new discussions of how technology shapes relationships and happiness and consideration of the relationship between the natural law and the virtues

The Science and Theology of Godly Love Matthew T. Lee,Amos Yong,2012-06-15 Arguing that there are ways to move beyond the limitations of methodological atheism without compromising scientific objectivity the essays gathered in The Science and Theology of Godly Love explore the potential for collaboration between social science and theology They do so within the context of the interdisciplinary study of Godly Love which examines the perceived experience of loving God being loved by God and thereby being motivated to engage in selfless service to others This volume serves as an introduction to and a call for further research in this new field of study offering ten methodological perspectives on the study of Godly Love written by leading social scientists and theologians Drawing on the work of Douglas Porpora and others the contributors contend that agnosticism is the appropriate methodological stance when religious experience is under the microscope Godly Love does not force a theistic explanation on data instead these essays show that it sensitizes researchers so that they can take seriously the faith and beliefs of those they study without the assumption that these theologies represent an incontestable truth

Jesus and the Quest for Meaning Thomas H. West, A new approach to introducing theology As God s self communication to humans Jesus is the key to the human search for meaning argues Thomas West He therefore introduces the practice of theology through Christology From the question of personal meaning and self constitution and their relationship to transcendent meaning and value he proceeds to discuss the figure and import of Jesus and then the ethical imperative engendered through encounter with him Fresh and clear West s book is an invitation to grapple with one's religious commitments especially in light of recent insights in biblical studies and Continental feminist and liberation theologies This new text will prove an engaging and effective introduction to theological thinking for both undergraduates and Christian adults

Nathaniel Taylor, New Haven Theology, and the Legacy of Jonathan Edwards Douglas A. Sweeney, 2002-12-05 Nathaniel Taylor was arguably the most influential and the most frequently misrepresented American theologian of his generation While he claimed to be an Edwardsian Calvinist very few people believed him This book attempts to understand how Taylor and his associates could have counted themselves Edwardsians In the process it explores what it meant to be an Edwardsian minister and intellectual in the 19th century

A Shared Mercy Jon Coutts, 2016-10-02 Combining systematic and pastoral theology Jon Coutts explores what it means to forgive and reconcile in the context of the Christ confessing community Both a constructive practical theology and a critical commentary on Barth's theology in Church Dogmatics this work explains the place and meaning of interpersonal forgiveness in Christ's ongoing ministry of reconciliation

Altruism and Christian Ethics Colin Grant, 2000-11-16 Separated from its anchorage in religion ethics has followed the social sciences in seeing human beings as fundamentally characterised by self interest so that altruism is either naively idealistic or arrogantly self sufficient Colin Grant contends that as a modern secular concept altruism is a parody on the self giving love of Christianity so that its dismissal represents a social levelling that loses the depths that theology makes intelligible and religion makes possible The Christian affirmation is that God is characterised by self giving love agape then expected of Christians Lacking this theological background the focus on self interest in sociobiology and economics and on human realism in the political focus of John Rawls or the feminist sociability of Carol Gilligan finds altruism naive or a dangerous distraction from real possibilities of mutual support This book argues that to dispense with altruism is to dispense with God and with the divine transformation of human possibilities
