American Paintings Before 1945 In The Wadsworth Atheneum Volume 1:

American Paintings at Harvard Theodore E. Stebbins, Melissa Renn, 2008-01-01 This volume features nearly 500 paintings watercolors pastels and miniatures from Harvard University's storied yet little known collection of American art. These works many unpublished are drawn from the Harvard Art Museums the University Portrait Collection the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology and other entities and date from the early colonial years to the mid 19th century. Highlights include a rare group of 17th century portraits along with important paintings by Robert Feke John Singleton Copley Charles Willson Peale Gilbert Stuart and Washington Allston in addition to works depicting western and Native American subjects by Alexandre de Batz Henry Inman and Alfred Jacob Miller among others. Each work is accompanied by scholarly commentary that draws on extensive new research as well as a complete exhibition and reference history. An introduction by Theodore E. Stebbins Jr. describes the history of the collection. Lavishly illustrated in color this compendium is a testament to the nation's oldest collection of American art and an essential resource for scholars and collectors alike.

American Paintings in The Metropolitan Museum of Art. Vol. 1 John Caldwell, Oswaldo Rodriguez Roque, Dale T. Johnson, 1994-03-01 Thomas Cole's Journey Elizabeth Mankin Kornhauser, Tim Barringer, 2018-01-29 Thomas Cole 1801-1848 is celebrated as the greatest American landscape artist of his generation. Though previous scholarship has emphasized the American aspects of his formation and identity never before has the British born artist been presented as an international figure in direct dialogue with the major landscape painters of the age. Thomas Cole's Journey emphasizes the artist's travels in England and Italy from 1829 to 1832 and his crucial interactions with such painters as Turner and Constable. For the first time it explores the artist's most renowned paintings The Oxbow 1836 and The Course of Empire cycle 1834-36 as the culmination of his European experiences and of his abiding passion for the American wilderness. The four essays in this lavishly illustrated catalogue examine how Cole's first hand knowledge of the British industrial revolution and his study of the Roman Empire positioned him to create works that offer a distinctive even dissident response to the economic and political rise of the United States the ecological and economic changes then underway and the dangers that faced the young nation. A detailed chronology of Cole's life focusing on his European tour retraces the artist's travels as documented in his journals letters and sketchbooks providing new insight into his encounters and observations. With discussions of over seventy works by Cole as well as by the artists he admired and influenced this book allows us to view his work in relation to his European antecedents and competitors demonstrating his major contribution to the history of Western art. American Drawings and Watercolors in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Kevin J. Avery, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2002 The Metropolitan Museum began acquiring American drawings and watercolors in 1880 just ten years after its founding. Since then it has amassed more than 1,500 works executed by American artists during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries in watercolor pastel chalk ink graphite gouache and charcoal. This volume documents the draftsmanship of more than 150 known artists before 1835 and that of about 60 unidentified artists of the period. It includes drawings and watercolors by such American masters as John Singleton Copley, John Trumbull, John Vanderlyn, Thomas Cole, Asher Brown Durand, George Inness, and James Abbott McNeill Whistler. Because the 504 works illustrate such a wide range of media techniques and styles, this publication is a veritable history of American drawing from the eighteenth through most of the nineteenth century.

Metropolitan Museum of Art website The American Art-Union Kimberly A. Orcutt, 2024-08-06 The first comprehensive treatment in seventy years of the American Art Union's remarkable rise and fall. For over a decade the New York-based American Art Union shaped art creation, display, and patronage nationwide. Boasting as many as 19,000 members from almost every state, its meteoric rise and its sudden and spectacular collapse still raise a crucial question: Why did such a successful and influential institution fail? The American Art Union reveals a sprawling and fascinating account of the country's first nationwide artistic phenomenon, creating a shared experience of visual culture, art news, and criticism, and a direct experience with original works. For an annual fee of five dollars, members of the American Art Union received an engraving after a painting by a notable US artist and the annual publication Transactions (1839-49) and later the monthly Bulletin (1848-53). Most importantly, members' names were entered in a drawing for hundreds of original paintings and sculptures by most of the era's best-known artists. Those artworks were displayed in its immensely popular Free Gallery. Unfortunately, the experiment was short-lived. Opposition grew, and a cascade of events led to an 1852 court case that proved to be the Art Union's downfall. Illuminating the workings of the American art market, this study fills a gaping lacuna in the history of nineteenth-century US art. Kimberly A. Orcutt draws from the American Art Union's records, as well as in-depth contextual research, to track the organization's decisive impact that set the direction of the country's paintings, sculpture, and engravings for well over a decade. Forged in cultural crosscurrents of utopianism and skepticism, the American Art Union's demise can be traced to its nature as an attempt to create and control the complex system that the early nineteenth-century art world represented. This study breaks the organization's activities into their major components to offer a structural rather than chronological narrative that follows mounting tensions to their inevitable end. The institution was undone not by dramatic outward events or the character of its leadership, but by the character of its utopianist plan.

United States Senate Catalogue of Fine Art William Kloss, 2005-08 The US Capitol abounds in magnificent art that rivals its exterior architectural splendor. The fine art held by the US Senate comprises much of this treasured heritage. It spans over 200 years of history, contains works by such celebrated artists as Augustus Saint Gaudens, Hiram Powers, Daniel Chester French, Charles Willson Peale, Gilbert Stuart, Walker Hancock, Alexander Calder. This volume provides previously unpublished information on the 160 paintings, sculptures in the US Senate. Each work of art, from portraiture of prominent senators to scenes depicting significant events in US history, is illustrated with a full-page color photo accompanied by an essay, secondary images that place the work in historical, aesthetic context.
