The American Revolution 1774-1783 Daniel Marston,2014-06-06 The American Revolution has been characterized politically as a united political uprising of the American colonies and militarily as a guerrilla campaign of colonists against the inflexible British military establishment Daniel Marston argues that this belief though widespread is a misconception He contends that the American Revolution in reality created deep political divisions in the population of the Thirteen Colonies while militarily pitting veterans of the Seven Years War against one another in a conflict that combined guerrilla tactics and classic eighteenth century campaign techniques on both sides The peace treaty of 1783 that brought an end to the war marked the formal beginning of the United States of America as an independent political entity British views of
