A Dutch Homesteader On The Prairies Letters Of Willem De Gelder 1910 13:

A Dutch Homesteader On The Prairies Willem de Gelder, 1973-12-15 The letters in this volume found in the original Dutch in the archives of the Netherlands Emigration Service in Holland form a unique chronicle of one European homesteader in Saskatchewan from 1910 to 1913 They were written by Willem dr Gelder whose experience as a homesteader was typical of that of hundreds of thousands of newcomers to the prairies in the greatest years of western expansion just before the First World War As a European immigrant he was able to write from a special perspective often ignored in Anglo Saxon accounts of western development Minute and perceptive observations of daily life are contained in his letters together with the recollections of friends and neighbours who spoke well of him this volume forms the portrait of a singular man who personified the toughness and persistence of the western pioneer De Gelder was born in the 1880s in Doorn the son of a well to do banker and received all the benefits of birth in an upper class home including a university education He came to Canada in 1910 and by the 1920s he had become a successful homesteader owning a half section of land meeting his bills and joining in the community life But in 1922 he rented out his land went to the Netherlands to see his family and returning to Canada he disposed of his homestead and vanished This book traces the compass of his life in Canada revealing the doubts and fears which culminated in his disappearance it highlights the anguish that all immigrants new and old suffered when they took the crucial step of beginning a new life A Dutch Homesteader on the Prairies Willem de Gelder, 1973 A

Dutch Homesteader on the Prairies Willem de Gelder, 1973 A Dutch Homesteader On The Prairies Willem De Gelder, 1973 The letters in this volume found in the original Dutch in the archives of the Netherlands Emigration Service in Holland form a unique chronicle of one European homesteader in Saskatchewan from 1910 to 1913 Hired Hands Cecilia Danysk, 1995-12-15 Farm workers were central to the development of Canada s prairie West From 1878 when the first shipment of prairie grain went to international markets to 1929 when the Great Depression signalled the end of the wheat boom the role of hired hands changed dramatically Prior to World War One hired hands viewed themselves and were treated in the rural community as equals to their farmer employers Many were farmers in training informal apprentices who worked for wages so they could accumulate the capital and experience needed to secure their own free 160 acre parcels of land In later years as free lands were taken hired hands increasingly faced the hkehhood of remaining waged labourers on the farms of others They became agricultural proletarians In this first full length study of labour in Canadian prairie agriculture during the period of settlement and expansion Cecilia Danysk examines the changing work and the growing rural community of the West through the eyes of the workers themselves World War One was a catalyst in bringing into focus the conflicting nature of labour capital relations and the divergent aims of workers and their employers Yet attempts at union organization were unsuccessful because most hired hands worked alone and because governments assisted farmers by stifling such attempts The workers greatest form of workplace control was to walk off one job and find another Previously published by McClelland

Stewart The First Dutch Settlement in Alberta Donald W. Sinnema, 2005 Translated from Dutch to English this collection of letters offers a unique perspective on the early pioneer years of the Dutch community in southeastern Alberta The letters provide first hand accounts of the preparations to immigrate the hardships of the pioneer years and the transformation from the most basic homesteading conditions to progressive rural communities including the towns of Granum Monarch and Nobleford In fact within just a decade new railroads towns churches schools and even telephone service had been established Based on extensive research the book also includes maps archival photographs and an appendix listing all the Dutch settlers in the region between the years of 1903 and 1914 The First Dutch Settlement in Alberta is an invaluable and fascinating collection of primary source material that offers a wealth of information for genealogists and historians and celebrates the pioneering spirit of Alberta s early Dutch community From the Heart of the Heartland John Moss, 1992 This volume gathers together authors and critics to reappraise the legacy of Sinclair Ross Beyond Ross major novel As For Me and My House the contributors reestablish the value of his other writings in their literary and historical contexts Published in English

Creating Societies Dirk Hoerder, 2000 The birth of Canada as a society and a nation has often been told from the narrow perspective of the founding nations These versions have left little room for the everyday experiences of a wide variety of individual immigrants who have had to adjust Technology and Culture , 1974 Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress, 1974-04 A cumulative list of works represented by Library of Congress printed cards
