From Florence to San Gimignano and Siena passing by way of Volterra Danilo Papi,2019-07-03 Does another Chianti guide really make sense It does if written by an author hailing from Chianti The author is indeed a real Chianti native who with his camera has traveled this territory far and wide to accompany us through its extraordinary particularities Very often there is still a lack of adequate support to visit the so called minor areas which indeed are not minor as shown by the Chianti territory so rich in art breathtaking landscapes history and food This guide wants to fill this void accompanying us with simplicity and frankness through unusual itineraries villages churches and abbeys where in addition to works of art we will be able to learn about lesser known glimpses Tuscan expressions owners of shops and clubs frequented by Chianti residents the chiantigiani Briefly there is everything we need here a local friend who with suggestions anecdotes and advices accompanies us in discovering Chianti with some excursions to the nearby wonders of Florence Siena San Gimignano Certaldo Volterra Europe's Living Landscapes Bas Pedrolí, Anne van Doorn, Geert de Blust,2014-12-22 This book is the result of three symposia of the Dutch Society for Landscape Ecology The first symposium in 2005 was about the National Ecological Network in the Netherlands The reason was that the implementation of the NEN decided upon in 1990 was halfway The second symposium in 2006 was about urban ecology and the third one to be held in 2007 will be about civil infrastructure This book does not cover the conferences completely and new contributions are added The three themes are important contexts in which landscape ecologists do their research and apply their knowledge and skills Of course there are many more subjects to hold conferences about for example climate change urbanisation agriculture landscape ecology itself etc The focus of the conferences is on the Netherlands with its urbanisation intensive land use and water management as characteristic features Although many WLO members do their work abroad or in an international context these conferences offer a window on what happens in the Dutch context The experiences may be of value for other contexts and that is why we present the results in English The selected themes and the focus on the Dutch context are serious demarcations of what landscape ecology in the Netherlands is all about The book does not represent all research and applications of landscape ecology Fodor's Florence, Tuscany & Umbria Fodor's Travel Publications, Inc. migrate there many in order to marry Italian men Confronted with experiences of social exclusion unfamiliar family relations and new cultural terrain many women struggle to build local lives In the first ethnographic monograph of Americans in Italy Catherine Trundle argues that charity and philanthropy are the central means by which many American women negotiate a sense of migrant belonging in Italy This book traces women s daily acts of charity as they gave food to the poor fundraised among the wealthy monitored untrustworthy recipients assessed the needy and reflected on the emotional work that charity required In exploring the often ignored role of charitable action in migrant community formation Trundle contributes to anthropological theories of gift giving compassion and reflexivity
