A Fairly Good Time Mavis Gallant, 1986 Mavis Gallant Marta Dvorak, 2019-11-04 With a confidante's insights Marta Dvořák sets up an innovative connection between Mavis Gallant's dazzling writing and the whole spectrum of the arts She simultaneously engages with the feats of art making and the adventures of reading looking and listening Drawing on private correspondence and conversations with the Gallant she repositions as a late modernist Dvořák investigates the relationships between the Paris-based master of the short story and visual and sound culture Through the filter of philosophical aesthetics she identifies the painterly cinematic and musical dynamics which light up Gallant's craft At the same time she opens a dialogue between Gallant and other international modernists and with those they were reading watching and listening to from the moving pictures which shaped Gallant's generation to the rhythm and dissonance of say Stravinsky and jazz which like the Cubist rupture with spatial perspective spearheaded modernity's aesthetics of breakage How does Gallant's work work Dvořák's hands on rhetorical analyses of Gallant's stories and lesser known recently reissued novels illuminate the superb stylist's language and vision via an emphasis on both image and rhythm Providing keys to Gallant's famous sleights of hand and tonal shifts the discussions reveal a fictional world as multidimensional as a Cubist picture or a symphony depending on whether we lean towards the eye or the ear Figuring Grief Karen E.

Smythe,1992-11-09 The title Figuring Grief refers to the narrative process whereby mourning is depicted In her textual analysis Smythe explores various connections between representation and consolation Drawing on genre and narratological theory she outlines the development of the fiction elegy as a sub genre and suggests that the modernist writings of Woolf and Joyce are paradigmatic examples of the form She then uses these paradigms as suggestive reading models for the interpretation of works by Gallant Munro and other contemporary fiction elegists Figuring Grief offers new readings of specific works and suggests that new ways of reading are both demanded and rewarded by a poetics of elegy A
