By crossing geographies and adopting multiple scales of observation from domestic space to urban visions this volume investigates a set of unexplored events devoted to housing and dwelling organised by technical professional cultural or governmental institutions from the interwar years to the Cold War. The book offers a first critical assessment of twentieth century housing exhibits and explores the role of exhibitions in the codification of notions of domesticity social models policies and architectural and urban discourse. The Huchiun Ohlone people were the first inhabitants of the land that is today Berkeley. Early in the 1800s the 47 000 acre ranches of the Peralta family stretched into the hills from San Leandro Creek to El Cerrito Creek. Only a scant 50 years later newly arrived American settlers established the community of Ocean View on the bay and in 1860 land nestled into the foothills was dedicated for the establishment of the future University of California. With a university to the east and Ocean View to the west the threat of annexation by the larger town of Oakland finally brought the two communities together into one and Athens of the West as Berkeley was known became a municipality in 1878      The Architectural/historical Aspects of the California School for the Blind and California School for the Deaf, Berkeley (1867-1979) David Gebhard, 1979      Toward a Simpler Way of Life Robert Winter, 1997 Anti commercial and anti modern the California Arts and Crafts Movement drew upon the decorative schemes of English Tudor Swiss chalet Japanese temple and Spanish mission evoking an earlier time before modern industry and technology intruded.
