Agent Mediated Electronic Commerce:

Agent-Mediated Electronic Commerce III Frank Dignum, Ulises Cortes, 2003-06-29 In this book we present a collection of papers around the topic of Agent Mediated Electronic Commerce. Most of the papers originate from the third workshop on Agent Mediated Electronic Commerce held in conjunction with the Autonomous Agents conference in June 2000. After two previous workshops, one during the Autonomous Agents conference in 1998 in Minneapolis and the second one in conjunction with the International Joint Conference On Artificial Intelligence in 1999, this workshop continued the tradition of the previous ones by setting the scene for the assessment of the challenges that Agent Mediated Electronic Commerce faces as well as the opportunities it creates. By focusing on agent-mediated interactions, specialists from different disciplines were brought together who contribute theoretical and application perspectives in the narrowly focused topic that nevertheless involves wide-ranging concerns such as agent architectures, institutionalization, economic theory, modeling, legal frameworks, and policy guidelines. The main topics for the workshop were: Electronic negotiation models for agents; Formal issues for agents that operate in electronic market places; Virtual trading institutions and platforms; Trading strategies for interrelated transactions, respectively auctions. The workshop received 12 submissions, of which 7 were selected for publication in this volume. Although the number of submissions was less than expected for an important area like agent-mediated electronic commerce, there is no reason to worry that this area does not get enough attention from the agent community.

Agent Mediated Electronic Commerce II Alexandros Moukas, Carles Sierra, Fredrik Ygge, 2000-07-26 The Internet is spawning many new markets and electronic commerce is changing many market conventions. Not only are old commercial practices being adapted to the new conditions of immediacy brought forth by the global networks, but new products and services as well as new practices are beginning to appear. There is already ample evidence that agent-based technologies will be crucial for these developments. However, many theoretical, technological, sociological, and legal aspects will need to be addressed before such opportunities become a significant reality. In addition to streamlining traditional transactions, agents enable new types of transactions. For example, the elusive one-to-one marketing becomes more of a reality when consumer agents capture and share or sell consumer demographics. Prices and other transaction dimensions need no longer to be fixed; selling agents can dynamically tailor merchant offerings to each consumer. Economies of scale become feasible in new markets when agents negotiate on special arbitration contracts. Dynamic business relationships will give rise to more competitively agile organizations. It is these new opportunities combined with substantial reduction in transaction costs that will revolutionize electronic commerce.
