Aging And The Care Of Older People In Europe:

Ageing and the Care of Older People in Europe Richard Hugman, 1994-08-23 As the population of all European countries ages rapidly understanding the phenomenon of ageing and social responses to old age has become a vital contemporary issue The diverse ways in which old age is seen across Europe are compared and different forms of care for the needs of older people are examined With the demise of large institutions and increasing demands on families and on domiciliary care the question of inter generational relations is seen as a key element in the future of old age It is argued that much is to be learned from cross national comparisons in developing social responses to old age Family Care of Older People in Europe Ian Philp, 2001 Developing appropriate responses to an ageing population is recognized by policy makers throughout the developed world as a top priority as is the vital contribution made by family caregivers However cultural demographic and organizational differences between countries have encouraged diverse patterns of response to this common challenge This book provides a systematic cross cultural analysis of contemporary patterns and future trends in all major countries of the European Union Additional interest is provided by including Poland emerging from the post Communist block as the country at the forefront for joining the European Union The book should be useful to European policy makers and academics involved in studying the health and social care needs of older people and the capacity contribution and needs of family caregivers who provide care to older people The book is also relevant for policy makers and researchers in other countries mostly in North America and Australia who wish to study European approaches to supporting older people and family caregivers

Community Care for Older People Susan Tester, 1996-03-06 This accessible textbook compares ways in which basic components of community care are funded organised and provided by governmental and non governmental agencies allowing practitioners and policy makers to learn from the experiences of their counterparts in Europe and North America

Long-Term Care and Older People in Western Europe Eloísa del Pino, Francisco Javier Moreno-Fuentes, 2025-06-30 Based on a comparative study covering 15 Western European countries this edited volume examines the responses of long term care homes for older people to the COVID 19 pandemic It analyses the preparedness of governments and residences and the structural weaknesses revealed and exacerbated by the crisis such as staff shortages the precariousness of employment in the sector and the deficient coordination between the health and caring sectors By examining the governance structures of the care home sector and their performance before and during the crisis the book highlights the institutional organisational and management challenges facing care homes both in continuing to provide services to an increasingly ageing population and in the event of future public health crises Care-Related Quality of Life in Old Age Marja Vaarama, Richard Pieper, Andrew Sixsmith, 2007-10-27 The ageing of populations across the world poses a crucial challenge for the twenty first century Society faces three major changes firstly increasing numbers of active older people demanding new social structures and opportunities secondly increasing numbers of frail or disabled older people requiring new interventions and improved health and social care with resulting economic consequences and finally complex economic technological organisational and social challenges involved in the ageing of society If society wants to benefit from these changes innovative social organisational and technological responses are needed This book presents the findings of the Care Keys project Keys for Quality Performance Management of the Care of Older Persons in Europe and is an example of how research can respond to the challenges outlined above Care Keys was the fruit of European Union research funding made possible under the Quality of Life and Management of Living Resources specific programme 1 1998 2002 under the EC s Fifth Framework Programme for Research Technological Development and Demonstration The activity promoting such research was Key Action 6 on the Ageing Population and their Disabilities

Palliative Care for Older People Lieve Van Den Block, Gwenda Albers, Sandra Martins Pereira, 2015 Offering not only insights into the current state of policy work around the world it also offers examples of good practice and recommendations for the future Recommendations that can inspire support and direct healthcare policy and decision making at organisational regional national and international levels

Ageing and the Care of Older People in Europe Richard Hugman, 1994-08-23 As the population of all European countries ages rapidly understanding the phenomenon of ageing and social responses to old age has become a vital contemporary issue The diverse ways in which old age is seen across Europe are compared and different forms of care for the needs of older people are examined With the demise of large institutions and increasing demands on families and on domiciliary care the question of inter generational relations is seen as a key element in the future of old age It is argued that much is to be learned from cross national comparisons in developing social responses to old age

Politicising and gendering care for older people Anca Dohotariu, Ana Paula Gil, Lubica Volanská, 2024-06-25 This book offers a new critical framework for understanding the processes of politicising and gendering care for older people and their manifestations in several European contexts It interrogates how care for older adults varies across time and place while searching for an in depth comprehension of how it becomes an arena of political struggle and the object of public policy in different countries and at various societal and political levels It brings together multidisciplinary contributions that examine the issue of care for older people as a political concern from many angles such as problematising care needs long term care policies home care services institutional services and family care The contributions reveal the diversity of situations in which the processes of politicising and gendering care for older adults overlap contradict or reinforce each other while leading to increased gender inequalities on different levels

Healthcare and Elderly Care in Europe Thomas Bahle, Mareike Ariaans, Katharina Koch, Claus Wendt, 2023-08-14 Given growing caseloads limited funding and staff shortages the need for coordination in healthcare and elderly care is at an all time high This timely book conducts a cross national analysis of coordination problems in healthcare and long term care systems and provides novel insights on how to improve the lives of the elderly

Racialised Workers and European Older-Age Care Nina Sahraoui, 2019-07-10 In the context of ageing populations increasing participation of women in the labour market growing marketisation of care provision and most importantly global inequalities racialised care workers have come to fulfil a key role within older age care in western European societies This book presents a gendered political economy of migrant and minority ethnic care workers experiences in older age care in London Paris and Madrid Its cross national comparative approach allows for a differentiated analysis of the workings of migration employment and care regimes in three capital cities with similarly segmented care sectors yet diverse policies and implications for care workers Sahraoui provides a novel perspective that advances debates on the ethics of care by foregrounding the voices of racialised care workers and contributing to feminist moral philosophy Racialised Workers and European Older Age Care offers unique insights into the meanings of care labour and the challenges arising from processes of neoliberal marketisation precarisation and institutional racism The book sketches out an intersectional understanding of the exploitative relationships on which care and social reproduction currently rely and demonstrates why it matters to move care from the margins of society to its centre This innovative and compelling analysis will appeal to students and scholars of Anthropology Sociology Political Science and Social Policy as well as those working in the interdisciplinary sub fields of Gender Migration Labour and Racism Studies
