King, 2013-09-13 This book features chapters that examine the various ways of belonging in the Middle East Belonging can mean fitting in feeling at home feeling a part this kind of belonging is profoundly social Belongings can be possessions objects closely associated with one's deepest notions of identity Both kinds of belongings pertain to people and the kindreds ethnic groups and nations and or states they call their own Belongings of both kinds are more often than not emplaced and territorialized All of the chapters treat Middle Eastern collectivities as sites of anguished cultural projects All use metaphor national territory as woman national resolve as cactus and so on None is reductionistic belonging is rendered in its complexity with its agonies as well as its joys All could be identified with a growing genre of work on belonging At the heart of each are the bonds that comprise belonging Each one conveys both belonging's messiness and its joys and touches as much as it argues and elaborates This book was published as a special issue of Identities Global Studies in Culture and Power

Real World Faith Walter Brueggemann, 2023-09-12 Real World Faith articulates a faith that is effectively linked to our real world the world of our bodies and of the body politic The real world of our bodies causes us to be largely preoccupied with our health security dignity and sexuality and causes concern for food and shelter for ourselves and for our neighbors The real world of the body politic puts us in inescapable touch with issues of money power weapons policies treaties taxes and trade agreements These are the matters that occupy us most of the time on most of our days They are the proper agenda of our faith because our faith consists in trust in the One who governs our bodily life in the world Our interpretive work is to try to articulate the ways albeit hidden ways in which the agency and character of God make effective contact with our world This is real life faith

Ford,2021-06-17 No church founder or planter likely intends to start a church with the stated goal of allowing abuse or abusing those within it Yet sadly and too often even in the best of churches abuse does occur The bitter fruit of abuse does not appear from nowhere Its origins the soil in which it grows and the structures that support it need be understood if we are to eradicate this fruit from within our churches and Christian organizations Bitter Fruit Dysfunction and Abuse in the Local Church describes those psychologies social psychologies and inadequate theologies that are frequently true in churches that enable abuse regardless of the form the abuse may take It is vital that you understand these things if you are a pastor leader or lay person seeking to maintain a healthy church environment Living Devotions Mary Clark Moschella,2008-01-01

Living Devotions explores how a particular community has creatively negotiated its religious bonds of connection in the context of immigration These matters cannot be studied in the abstract Religious practice is not something separate from the economic cultural and psychological dimensions of life but rather something integral which shapes and is being shaped by all of these other realities The author examines these dynamics through an ethnographic case study of the living devotions of a group of Italian Catholic immigrants to San Pedro California The narrative describes how the group s historical experiences of immigration and fishing find expression in their particular forms of prayer art artifacts and food The healing and transformative power of these shared religious practices is explored As contemporary theologians pastors and congregations seek to welcome and care for immigrants and other strangers in a shifting social landscape we need ways to engage in care full and attentive relationships The ethnographic method employed here suggests a way to lift up the voices of ordinary people allowing them to tell their own stories while piecing together emerging bits of theological wisdom and compelling care practices While the particular insights of any community are situated and specific theological reflection in one context can animate a broader discussion of transformative pastoral theology and practice Building Better Bonds Taylor
