Assessment in Geographical Education: An International Perspective Theresa Bourke,Reece Mills,Rod Lane,2022-02-27 In recent years there has been increased attention paid to the importance of assessment in Geographical Education the chosen subject for this book Assessment is an important tool for collecting information about student learning and for providing timely data to inform key stakeholders including students teachers parents and policymakers To be effective assessment needs to be valid reliable and fair Validity is about ensuring that we assess what we claim we are assessing Reliability is about measuring performance and understanding in a consistent way Without validity and reliability assessment is unlikely to provide equitable opportunities for students to demonstrate what they know and can do As geography educators it is therefore important that we identify the core concepts and skills in geography that we want students to master We need a clear understanding of what the progression of learning looks like for each concept and skill so we can develop fit for purpose assessments that track and improve student learning While there is a substantial literature on evidence based assessment in secondary school contexts research exploring best practice assessment in geography is rare This is a concern given the distinctive nature of geography and the important role of assessment in the learning process This scholarly collection seeks to address this issue by connecting research in educational assessment with the domain of geography The chapters are written by leading researchers in Geographical Education from across the globe These chapters provide examples of innovation through the collective voices of geography teacher educator scholars from across Australia USA South Korea Germany Switzerland and Singapore What unifies the work in this book is that each chapter focuses on a key feature of the discipline of geography providing scholarly examples of evidence based practices for assessing student s knowledge and skills Amp Math System Assessment Masters Level 3 ,2008-01-31 Teacher s Edition Volume 1

2Assessment Masters Learning to Teach in the Secondary School Susan Capel,Marilyn Leask,Sarah Younie,2019-04-11 For all undergraduate postgraduate and school based routes to qualified teacher status Learning to Teach in the Secondary School is an essential introduction to the key skills and knowledge needed to become a secondary teacher Underpinned by evidence informed practice and focussing on what you need to know to thrive in the classroom the eighth edition is fully updated in light of changes in the field covers new topics and provides additional guidance on topics such as developing your resilience using digital technologies closing the achievement gap and using data to inform your teaching and pupil learning The text includes a wealth of examples and tasks to demonstrate how to successfully apply theory to practice and how to critically reflect on and analyse your practice to maximise pupil learning The wide range of pedagogical features supports both school and university based work up to Masters level Written by experts in the field the 37 concise units create unit by unit coverage that can be dipped into offering guidance on all aspects of learning to teach including Managing your workload Lesson planning Curriculum Motivating pupils Promoting behaviour for learning Assessment marking and feedback Special educational needs and disabilities SEND Applying for jobs developing as a professional and networking Learning to Teach in the Secondary School provides practical help and guidance for many of the situations and potential challenges you are faced with in school The text is extended by a companion website that includes additional information as well as specific units covering England Northern Ireland Scotland and Wales Supported by the subject specific titles in the Learning to Teach Subjects in the Secondary School Series it is an essential purchase for every aspiring secondary school teacher Preparing Leaders of Nonprofit Organizations William A Brown,Matthew Hale,2022-07-14 There are more than 1 8 million nonprofits in the United States and at least 3 times that many internationally Workers in these nonprofits and civil society organizations increasingly look to academic programs to provide leadership and management training This edited volume is designed to provide new and experienced faculty and program administrators with a broader conception of how the nonprofit leaders of the future are and could be educated The chapters are written by experienced nonprofit program leaders who provide guidance on all aspects of building and more importantly maintaining a successful nonprofit program Many of the chapters are written by former leaders of the nonprofit Academic Centers Council NACC a recognized international leader in nonprofit management curricular development while others are written by successful founders and administrators of nonprofit programs both in the US and internationally All chapters are however grounded in the experience of the authors

supplemented with research on best practices and focusing on future trends in the field Preparing Leaders of nonprofit Organizations examines key issues and challenges in the field from multiple perspectives some of which are curricular and intellectual while others are related to program administration and oversight The text explores core concepts distils distinctive features of new or emerging academic programs and identifies ways program leadership might ensure those features are reflected in their programs regardless of where these are housed within a university The book is an essential resource for faculty and administrators who work with or are seeking to develop a nonprofit education program It is also a useful guide for graduate students seeking a career in the nonprofit academy Ipsative Assessment G. Hughes, 2014-05-07 Ipsative assessment is a powerful new approach that provokes a radical rethink of the purposes and methods of assessment This book presents a case for partially replacing competitive assessment with ipsative assessment and it explores the possibilities and the challenges with research evidence and case studies New Perspectives on Using Accreditation to Improve Higher Education Hysa, Eglantina, Foote, Russell, 2022-06-24 Recently the priorities of higher education have adjusted where before the focus was primarily on the financial side of education institutions now consider people to be their main source of value and education to be much more than the production and dissemination of knowledge Due to this a gap has been created between decades of emphasis on financing and the undermining of the qualitative requirements of education New Perspectives on Using Accreditation to Improve Higher Education outlines key issues that must be addressed if accreditation agencies globally are to achieve their primary objective of ensuring that universities and the degree programs they offer are of even greater quality than they are at present Covering topics such as leadership assessment and sustainability this reference work is ideal for principals policymakers higher education staff researchers scholars academicians practitioners instructors and students Assessment Matters In Higher Education Brown, Sally, Glasner, Angela, 1999-02-01 Assessment really does matter in higher education Internationally academics and those who support them are seeking better ways to assess students recognizing that diverse methods are available which may solve many of the problems associated with the evaluation of learning Assessment Matters in Higher Education provides both theoretical perspectives and pragmatic advice on how to conduct effective assessment It draws clearly on both relevant research and on its contributors practical first hand experience warts and all It asks for example how can assessment methods best become an integral part of learning what strategies can be used to make assessment fairer more consistent and more efficient how effective are innovative approaches to assessment and in what contexts do they prosper to what extent can students become involved in their own assessment how can we best assess learning in professional practice contexts This is an important resource for all academics and academic managers involved in assessing their students
