Pre-Columbian Trans-Oceanic Contact Jerald Fritzing, 2016-03-14 Pre Columbian Trans Oceanic Contact examines the discovery and settlement of The New World hundreds and even thousands of years before Christopher Columbus was born

Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège, 2009-12-11 Cinema has been long associated with France dating back to 1895 when Louis and Auguste Lumi_re screened their works the first public viewing of films anywhere Early silent pioneers Georges Méliès Alice Guy Blaché and others followed in the footsteps of the Lumi_re brothers and the tradition of important filmmaking continued throughout the 20th century and beyond In Encyclopedia of French Film Directors Philippe Rège identifies every French director who has made at least one feature film since 1895 From undisputed masters to obscure one timers nearly 3 000 directors are cited here including at least 200 filmmakers not mentioned in similar books published in France Each director's entry contains a brief biographical summary including dates and places of birth and death information on the individual's education and professional training and other pertinent details such as real names when the filmmaker uses a pseudonym The entries also provide complete filmographies including credits for feature films shorts documentaries and television work Some of the most important names in the history of film can be found in this encyclopedia from masters of the Golden Age Jean Renoir and René Clair to French New Wave artists such as François Truffaut and Jean Luc Godard

The Ancient Mediterranean Sea in Modern Visual and Performing Arts Rosario Rovira Guardiola, 2017-12-14 When thinking about the Mediterranean Fernand Braudel's haunting words resound like an echo of the sea and its millenary history From Prehistory until today the Mediterranean has been setting witness and protagonist of mythical adventures of encounters with the Other of battles and the rise and fall of cultures and empires of the destinies of humans Braudel's appeal for a long durée history of the Mediterranean challenged traditional views that often present it as a sea fragmented and divided through periods This volume proposes a journey into the bright and dark sides of the ancient Mediterranean through the kaleidoscopic gaze of artists who from the Renaissance to the 21st century have been inspired by its myths and history The view of those who imagined and recreated the past of the sea has largely contributed to the shaping of modern cultures which are inexorably rooted and embedded in Mediterranean traditions The contributions look at modern visual reinterpretations of ancient myths fiction and history and pay particular attention to the theme of sea travel and travellers which since Homer's Odyssey has become the epitome of the discovery of new worlds of cultural exchanges and a metaphor of personal developments and metamorphoses

Towards a Methodology for the Investigation of Norms in Audiovisual Translation Fotios Karamitroglou, 2000 Here is presented for the first time a methodology for the investigation of norms which operate in the field of audiovisual translation Based on the findings of the polysystem approach to translation the present work aims to demonstrate that it is possible to investigate audiovisual translation and the norms that operate in it in a systematic way Human agents audiovisual products recipients and the mode itself are thoroughly investigated and stratified under a lower middle and upper level Specific techniques for collecting and analysing data are suggested The model is tentatively applied to the investigation of norms which seem to determine the choice between subtitling and revoicing children s TV programmes in Greece However one will soon notice that the same model could be applied for the investigation of audiovisual translation norms in any other country But not only that one will quickly realise that with minute modifications the same model can prove effective for the study of norms in other modes of written translation too Therefore this volume can be of a high interest not only to audiovisual translation scholars and practitioners but to general translation scholars and students of translation proper as well

Animation in Europe Rolf Giesen, 2022-08-24 There is a lot one could say about animation in Europe but above all there is no consistent European animation It is as disparate as the various countries involved Audiences will certainly recognize American or Japanese animation but in Europe it can range from Czech Polish and Hungarian to Greek Italian Spanish Portuguese French and British Animation in Europe provides a comprehensive review of the history and current situation of animation in over 20 European countries It features numerous interviews with artists and producers including rare documents and firsthand accounts that illustrate the rich history of animation in Europe Additional features include An extensive chronology with key events in European animation A Who s Who of producers directors writers and animators working in Europe An examination of the origin of European animation and its influence Animation in Europe is the first book devoted entirely to this topic and therefore will be of value for animation buffs as well as practitioners and researchers

Masters of the Ninth Art Matthew Screech, 2005-01-01 In English speaking countries Francophone comic strips like Herg s s Les Aventures de Tin Tin and Goscinny and Uderzo s Les Aventures d Asterix are viewed and marketed as children s literature But in Belgium and France their respective countries of origin such strips known as bandes dessin es are considered a genuine art form or more specifically the ninth art But what accounts for the drastic difference in the way such comics are received In Masters of the Ninth Art Matthew Screech explores that difference in the reception and reputation of bandes dessin es Along with in depth looks at Tin Tin and Asterix Screech considers other major comics artists such as Jacque Tardi Jean Giraud and Moebius assessing in the process their role in Francophone literary and artistic culture Illustrated with images from the artists discussed Masters of the Ninth Art will appeal to students of European popular culture literature and graphic art

Comics in Translation Federico Zanettin, 2015-12-22 Comics are a pervasive art form and an intrinsic part of the cultural fabric of most countries And yet relatively little has been written on the translation of comics Comics in Translation attempts to address this gap in the literature and to offer the first and most comprehensive account of various aspects of a diverse range of social practices subsumed under the label comics Focusing on the role played by translation in shaping graphic narratives that appear in various formats different contributors examine various aspects of this popular phenomenon Topics covered include the impact of globalization and localization processes on the ways in which translated comics are embedded in cultures the import of editorial and publishing practices textual strategies adopted in translating comics including the translation of culture and language specific features and the interplay between visual and verbal messages Comics in translation examines comics that originate in different cultures belong to quite different genres and are aimed at readers of different age groups and cultural backgrounds from Disney comics to Art Spiegelman's Maus from Katsuhiro Tomo's Akira to Goscinný and Uderzo's Asterix The contributions are based on first hand research and exemplify a wide range of approaches Languages covered include English Italian Spanish Arabic French German Japanese and Inuit The volume features illustrations from the works discussed and an extensive annotated bibliography Contributors include Raffaella Baccolini Nadine Celotti Adele D'Arcangelo Catherine Delesse Elena Di Giovanni Heike Elisabeth Jüngst Valerio Rota Carmen Valero Garcés Federico Zanettin and Jehan Zitawi

Turning the Page Fiona M. Collins, Jeremy Ridgman, 2006 Since the nineteenth century children's literature has been adapted for both the stage and the screen As the twentieth century progressed children's books provided the material for an increasing range of new media from radio to computer games from television to cinema blockbuster Although such adaptations are now recognised as a significant part of the culture of childhood and popular culture in general little has been written about the range of products and experiences that they generate This book brings together writers whose work offers contrasting perspectives on the process of adaptation and the varying transformations social historical and ideological that take place when a text moves from the page to another medium Linking all these contributions is an interest in the changing definition of children's literature and its target audience within an increasingly media rich society
