Birds Of Utah Great Basin Natualist Memoirs Number 1:

The Great Basin Naturalist ,1999 Proceedings ,1987 Fourth in a series of proceedings of symposia on wildland shrubs this publication brings together current knowledge of interactions between plants and herbivores Topics addressed by the 31 papers include plant chemistry palatability nutrition and physiology herbivore foraging behavior and plant response to browsing Birds of Zion National Park and Vicinity Roland H. Wauer,1997 A completely revised edition of the basic birding book for the Zion National Park region this is a guide to finding the hundreds of species that frequent the magnificent landscape in and around the park It includes descriptions of the diverse habitats of Zion instructions on bird finding by season and migration an annotated list of all bird species that have been recorded in the park with notes on where and when they were observed thirty four pen and ink bird portraits by wildlife artist Mimi Hoppe Wolf and additional color illustrations by Howard Rollin and the author Utah BLM Statewide Wilderness Environmental Impact Statement : Final: West-Central Region United States. Bureau of Land Management. Utah State Office,1990 The Birds of Northeastern Utah William Harroun Behle,1981 Vertebrate Paleontology in Utah David D. Gillette,1999 The 52 papers in this vary in content from summaries or state of knowledge treatments to detailed contributions that describe new species Although the distinction is subtle the title Vertebrate Paleontology in Utah indicates the science of paleontology in the state of Utah rather than the even more ambitious intent if it were given the title Vertebrate Paleontology of Utah which would promise an encyclopedic treatment of the subject The science of vertebrate paleontology in Utah is robust and intense It has grown prodigiously in the past decade and promises to continue to grow indefinitely This research benefits everyone in the state through Utah s museums and educational institutions which are the direct beneficiaries General Technical Report RM. ,1988 Manti-La Sal National Forest (N.F.), Pines Tract Project ,1999 Management of Amphibians, Reptiles, and Small Mammals in North America Robert C. Szaro,Kieth E. Severson,David R. Patton,1988 Historically the management of public lands from a multiple use perspective has led to a system that emphasizes those habitat components or faunal elements that primarily resulted in some sort of definable economic value While this often benefitted other species that were not even considered in the original prescriptions it also negatively impacted others We no longer can afford to take this simplistic view of ecosystem management We need to use a more holistic approach where ecological landscapes are considered as units and land management practices incorporate all elements into an integrated policy This includes examining the impacts of proposed land uses on amphibian reptile and small mammal populations I-15 Corridor Utah County to Salt Lake County, Utah and Salt Lake Counties ,2008
