Series Apostolikos Thronos: Rival Accounts of Roman Primacy in Eusebius and Athanasius Fr. Vincent Twomey,2023-06-27 The nature of Roman primacy and the extent of the teaching and jurisdictional authority of the pope have long been areas of misunderstanding and disagreement between the Catholic Church and the Orthodox Churches of the

Vincent Twomey's Apostolikos Thronos exposes two divergent Eastern accounts of Roman primacy in the writings of the rival fourth century bishops Eusebius of Caesarea and Athanasius of Alexandria In the first part Twomey examines successive versions of Eusebius Church History and he shows how Eusebius comes to replace his earlier apostolic ecclesiology with a novel imperial ecclesiology tied to Constantine's embrace of Christianity a shift that both reflects and contributes to a lasting change in the consciousness of the East toward the See of Rome The second part explores the perspective on Roman primacy found in Athanasius historical and apologetic works penned in response to his deposition from the See of Alexandria which reveal how Athanasius preserves the traditional apostolic ecclesiology of the early Eusebius and also displays a deepening theological appreciation for the preeminence of the church and bishop of Rome anticipating later articulations of the
