The New Rules of Green Marketing Jacquelyn A. Ottman, 2011-02-07 Green products have been around since the 1970s but it's only in recent years that they've become ubiquitous. That's because savvy green marketers are no longer targeting deep green consumers with a save the planet pitch. Instead, they're promoting the added value their products provide: better health, superior performance, good taste, or cost effectiveness. In this innovative book, Ottman argues that emphasizing primary benefits is critical to winning over the mainstream consumer. Drawing on the latest poll data and incorporating lessons learned from her clients and other leading sustainable brands including GE, Nike, Method, Starbucks, Timberland, HP, NatureWorks, Procter & Gamble, Stonyfield Farm, and Wal-Mart, Ottman provides practical strategies, tools, and inspiration for building every aspect of a credible value-based green marketing strategy. She covers such topics as spurring innovation through a proactive approach to sustainability, developing products that are green throughout their life cycle, communicating credibly to avoid accusations of greenwashing, teaming up with stakeholders to maximize outreach to consumers, taking advantage of social media, and much more. The New Rules of Green Marketing captures the best of Ottman's two previous groundbreaking books on green marketing and places it within a 21st Century context. Focusing on a new generation of marketers who likely grew up with an appreciation for sustainability, it provides in one place essential strategies, tools, and inspiration for connecting effectively with mainstream consumers. The Environmental Impact of Sieben Linden Ecovillage Andrea Bocco, Martina Gerace, Susanna Pollini, 2019-01-10. The Open Access version of this book is available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/9780367145644>. It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 license. Environmental impact assessment is widely taught and researched but rarely covers both lifestyle and building construction in a town or neighbourhood. This book provides a broad assessment of the environmental impact of the ecovillage Sieben Linden in Germany. The ecovillage was founded in 1997 and has a population of over one hundred people. This book shows how raising the awareness of individuals and adopting a consistent way of community living can be environmentally friendly. This applies both to everyday practices and the way the houses in the ecovillage are built. The tools used to measure the impact are Ecological Footprint and Carbon Footprint methodologies, making use of indicators such as Primary Energy Intensity and Global Warming Potential. Despite the difficulties encountered by using standardised methodologies, these research tools provide an overall assessment and have allowed comparisons with selected similar cases and general values from statistical sources. This book will be of great use to professionals and scholars in the fields of environmental impact assessment, particularly at the town, district, city level, and of city and ecovillage management. It will particularly appeal to those engaged in a Sustainable Development Goal 11 perspective as well as environmental policy makers at the local level. Doing Business in a New Climate Paul Ling, Deborah Carlson, 2010.
