The Naqab Bedouin and Colonialism Mansour Nasasra, Sophie Richter-Devroe, Sarab Abu-Rabia-Queder, Richard Ratcliffe, 2014-08-13 The Naqab Bedouin and Colonialism brings together new scholarship to challenge perceived paradigms often dominated by orientalist modernist or developmentalist assumptions on the Naqab Bedouin The past decade has witnessed a change in both the wider knowledge production on and political profile of the Naqab Bedouin This book addresses this change by firstly endeavouring to overcome the historic isolation of Naqab Bedouin studies from the rest of Palestine studies by situating studying and analyzing their predicaments firmly within the contemporary context of Israeli settler colonial policies Secondly it strives to de colonise research and advocacy on the Naqab Bedouin by for example reclaiming indigenous knowledge and terminology Offering not only a nuanced description and analysis of Naqab Bedouin agency and activism but also trying to draw broader conclusion as to the functioning of settler colonial power structures as well as to the politics of research in such a context this book is essential reading for students and researchers with an interest in Postcolonial Studies Development Studies Israel Palestine Studies and the contemporary Middle East more broadly

Indigenous Land Rights in Israel Morad Elsana,2020-11-29 Introducing the Negev Bedouin land issue from the international indigenous land rights perspective this comparative study suggests options for the recognition of their land The book demonstrates that the Bedouin land dispossession like many indigenous peoples progressed through several phases that included eviction and displacement legislation and judicial decisions that support acts of dispossession and deny the Bedouin s traditional land rights Examining the Mawat legal doctrine on which the State and the Court rely on to deny Bedouin land rights this volume introduces the relevant international law protecting indigenous land rights and shows how the limitations of this law prevent any meaningful protection of Bedouin land rights In the second part of the work the Aborigines land in Australia is introduced as an example of indigenous peoples successful struggle for their traditional land rights The final chapter analyzes the basic elements of judicial recognition of the land and shows that the basic elements needed for Bedouin land recognition exist in the Israeli legal system Proposing practical recommendations for the recognition of Bedouin land this volume is a key resource to scholars and students interested in land rights international law comparative studies and the Middle East challenges facing indigenous and minority populations located in several geographical areas of the world The papers are written by writers and scholars from various parts of the world and like any piece of literature on indigenous and minority populations the topics are diverse The perspectives are both interdisciplinary and multi disciplinary The issues examined in the various chapters cover areas pertaining to their human rights preservation of their culture and identity traditional knowledge and their challenges but also scholarly and epistemological approaches to understanding and articulating such topics in academic contexts Indeed the issues around indigenous and minority populations across the world transcend their human rights concerns in relation to dominant groups and institutions within the territorial boundaries of the modern states where they currently live These issues are cultural anthropological sociological philosophical and epistemological as well as historical Any scholarly piece of work on indigenous and minority populations is therefore inevitably inter disciplinary multi disciplinary or both The various topics examined by the authors epitomize this diversity of issues around such populations The book is a significant source of information for students academics practitioners policymakers government officials and non governmental organisations working on issues that pertain to such populations at national regional and global levels

Israeli-Palestinian Activism Alexander Koenig, 2016-03-09 When do words and actions empower When do they betray Based on ethnographic fieldwork this volume tracks the repercussions of advocacy activism against house demolitions in unrecognised Arab Bedouin villages in Israel's southern internal frontier It highlights the repercussions of activism for victims fund raisers and activists The ethnographic episodes show how humanitarian aid intervention and indigenous identity politics can turn into a double edged sword Ironically institutional lobbying for coexistence and its interpretative categories can sometimes perpetuate different forms of subjugation The volume also shows how beyond the institutional lobbying novel figures of activism emerge informal networks create non sectarian cross cutting countercultures and rethink human environment relationships These experimental political subjects redefine the categories of the conflict and elude the logic of zero sum games they point towards a shifting paradigm in current ethnopolitics Koenig outlines an ethnographic approach for the study of social movements that follows multiple relations around mobilisations rather than studying activism in itself This perspective thus becomes relevant for scholars and activists engaged with the Israeli Palestinian conflict and those interested in global rights discourses

Rural Arab Demography and Early Jewish Settlement in Palestine David Grossman, 2017-09-08 This volume explores the distribution of the rural population in Palestine from the late Ottoman period 1870 1917 to the British Mandate period 1917 1948 The book focuses on demography specifically migrations population size density growth and the pattern of distribution in rural Palestine before the inception of Jewish settlement 1882 Grossman traces little known Muslim ethnic groups who settled in Palestine's rural areas primarily Egyptians but also Algerians Bosnians and Circassians The author argues that the Arab population in the zones occupied by Jews after 1882 was about one third that of the Arab core areas in the period studied the decline in per capita rural Arab farmland was mainly due to overall population growth not displacement of Arabs economic development suffered largely because of violent disturbances and natural disasters the pattern of growth of Egyptian and other Muslim groups was similar to that of the Jews The main conclusions of this study note that the size of the rural Arab population in the zones occupied by Jews after 1882 was about one tenth of that which occupied the Arab core zones most Egyptian settlement areas coincided with those of the Jewish zones between 1870 and 1945 the decline of Arab farmland was mainly due to Arab population growth rather than Jewish land acquisitions and most migrants Jewish and Muslim settlement zones were leftovers characterized by some form of resource disability
