Asia Militarisation And Regional Conflict:

Asia, Militarization & Regional Conflict Yoshikazu Sakamoto,1988 Asia's New Geopolitics Desmond Ball, Lucie Béraud-Sudreau, Tim Huxley, C. Raja Mohan, Brendan Taylor, 2021-09-28 Intensifying geopolitical rivalries rising defence spending and the proliferation of the latest military technology across Asia suggest that the region is set for a prolonged period of strategic contestation None of the three competing visions for the future of Asian order a US led Free and Open Indo Pacific a Chinese centred order or the ASEAN inspired Indo Pacific Outlook is likely to prevail in the short to medium term In the absence of a new framework the risk of open conflict is heightened and along with it the need for effective mechanisms to maintain peace and stability As Asia's leaders seek to rebuild their economies and societies in the wake of COVID 19 they would do well to reflect upon the lessons offered by the pandemic and their applicability in the strategic realm The societies that have navigated the crisis most effectively have been able to do so by putting in place stringent protective measures Crisis management and avoidance mechanisms and even in the longer term wider arms control can be seen as the strategic equivalent of such measures and as such they should be pursued with urgency in Asia to reduce the risks of an even greater calamity Islam, Authoritarianism, and Underdevelopment Ahmet T. Kuru, 2019-08-01 Why do Muslim majority countries exhibit high levels of authoritarianism and low levels of socio economic development in comparison to world averages Ahmet T Kuru criticizes explanations which point to Islam as the cause of this disparity because Muslims were philosophically and socio economically more developed than Western Europeans between the ninth and twelfth centuries Nor was Western colonialism the cause Muslims had already suffered political and socio economic problems when colonization began Kuru argues that Muslims had influential thinkers and merchants in their early history when religious orthodoxy and military rule were prevalent in Europe However in the eleventh century an alliance between orthodox Islamic scholars the ulema and military states began to emerge This alliance gradually hindered intellectual and economic creativity by marginalizing intellectual and bourgeois classes in the Muslim world This important study links its historical explanation to contemporary politics by showing that to this day ulema state alliance still prevents creativity and competition in Muslim countries IBSS: Political Science: 1987 British Library of Political and Economic Science, 1991 IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institutions whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences Asian Space Race: Rhetoric or Reality? Ajey Lele, 2012-10-21 This book explores the character and contours of the Asian Space Powers At present Asian states like China Japan and India are found investing in space technologies with analogous social and scientific and probably with divergent military intents Other Asian states like Israel South Korea and Malaysia are also making investments in the space arena States like Iran and North Korea are faulted for using space launches as a demonstrative tool to achieve strategic objectives This work examines this entire maze of activities to unearth where these states are making these investments to accomplish their state specific goal or are they also trying to surpass each other by engaging in competition Explaining why and how these states are making investments towards achieving their socio economic and strategic mandate this book infers that the possibility of Asian Space Race exists but is presently fairly diminutive The Trifurcating Miracle Satoshi Ikeda,2018-10-24 This title examines the transformation of Japan s national economy It employs the concept of the structure of accumulation composed of the organizations of labor credit and markets The postwar Japanese miracle trifurcated into prosperous corportions squeezed workers and parasitic bureaucracy in the slow growth period 1974 91 The miracle continues only for the major Japanese corporations that are East Asianizing and globalizing

Postwar Japan as History Andrew Gordon,1993-10-20 As they examine three related themes of postwar history the authors describe an ongoing historical process marked by unexpected changes such as Japan s extraordinary economic growth and unanticipated continuities such as the endurance of conservative rule From publisher s description Modern Diplomacy R. cultural imperialism has been practiced by Western colonizing nations seeking to extend their hegemony around the globe In this insightful study Hewa sheds new light on the often ignored role that Western medicine has played in this expansionist project At the center of his analysis the author cites colonial economic policies both as the facilitator of the spread of epidemic diseases in the tropics and as a vehicle for promoting the superiority of Western medicine that sought their cure Sri Lanka is the geographical focus of the study providing the first comprehensive analysis of the impact of European colonial policies on the health and disease of that population Hewa concentrates primarily on the British and American cultural imperialism and how against this backdrop the intervention of Rockefeller philanthropy in Sri Lanka is examined
