Angela Hutchinson Hammer Betty E. Hammer Joy,2015-10-19 In 1905 with her marriage dissolved and desperate to find a way to feed her children Angela Hutchinson Hammer bought a handpress some ink and a few fonts of type and began printing a little tabloid called the Wickenburg Miner In her na vet Angela never dreamed this purchase would place her squarely in the forefront of power struggles during Arizona s early days of statehood A true daughter of the West Angela born in a tiny mining hamlet in Nevada came to the Territory of Arizona at the age of twelve Betty Hammer Joy weaves together the lively story of her grandmother s life by drawing upon Angela s own prodigious writing and correspondence newspaper archives and the recollections of family members Her book recounts the stories Angela told of growing up in mining camps teaching in territorial schools courtship marriage and a twenty eight year career in publishing and printing During this time Angela managed to raise three sons run for public office before women in the nation had the right to vote serve as Immigration Commissioner in Pinal County homestead and mature into an activist for populist agendas and water conservation As questionable deals took place both within and outside the halls of government the crusading Angela encountered many duplicitous characters who believed that women belonged at home darning socks not running a newspaper Although Angela s independent papers brought personal hardship and little if any financial reward after her death in 1952 the newspaper industry paid tribute to this courageous woman by selecting her as the first woman to enter the Arizona Newspaper Hall of Fame In 1983 she was honored posthumously with another award for women who contributed to Arizona s progress induction into the Arizona Women s Hall of Fame Skirting Traditions: Arizona Women Writers and Journalists 1912-2012 Brenda Kimsey Warneka,Carol Hughes,Lois McFarland,June P. Payne,Sheila Roe,Pam Knight Stevenson,2016-04-29 Women who skirt traditions whether on the frontier of a young state or in a male dominated profession have relied on resilience creativity and grit to survive and to flourish These short biographies of twenty eight female writers and journalists from Arizona span the one hundred years since Arizona became the forty eighth state in the Union They capture the emotions the monumental and often overlooked events and the pioneering spirit of women whose lives are now part of Arizona history The remarkable women profiled in this anthology made the trek to Arizona from the big cities of Chicago Los Angeles and Washington D C from the green hills of Wisconsin and from backwater towns in Oklahoma and Pennsylvania by covered wagon automobile and later airplane They came with their parents or their husbands or as single women with and without children They came seeking health in the sun blessed dryness of the desert a job a better lifestyle What these women had in common was their love of writing and journalism and their ability to use the written word to earn a living to argue a cause and to promote the virtues beauty history and people of the Southwest The narratives in Skirting Traditions move forward from the beginning of statehood to the modern day describing daring feats patriotic actions and amazing accomplishments They are women you won t soon forget 100 Western Women Jan Cleere,2025-03-12 History books record scant contributions women made in settling and developing the new territory of Arizona Yet women were an integral part of civilizing the rough rowdy often dangerous land For more than ten years Jan Cleere has written about the women who influenced the growth and development of Arizona in her column Western Women that appears monthly in the Arizona Daily Star newspaper The famous infamous and those not so well known are featured each with a compelling story of surviving and thriving under less than ideal circumstances Warriors basket weavers ranchers artists innkeepers schoolteachers politicians and entrepreneurs from a remarkable variety of backgrounds and cultures influenced the growth of Arizona Read about Larcena Pennington who had to crawl down a mountain to escape her Indian captors Hopi artist Nampeyo continued to make exquisite pots even after she started losing her eyesight Carmen Vasquez built a theater and brought in shows from as far away as Spain Elizabeth Hudson Smith ran a successful hotel until the color of her skin turned a town against her And Sarah Gorby allowed injured animals to live in her home until they could return to their desert habitats The 100 Western women featured between these pages are just a handful of those who came before and after them as the territory emerged and flourished into an amazing and diverse state unlike any other in the nation Winning Their Place Heidi J. Osselaer, 2016-05-26 In January 1999 five women were elected to the highest offices in Arizona including governor secretary of state attorney general treasurer and superintendent of public instruction The Fab Five as they were dubbed by the media were sworn in by U S Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O Connor herself a former member of the Arizona legislature Some observers assumed that the success of women in Arizona politics was a result of the modern women s movement but Winning Their Place convincingly demonstrates that these recent political victories have a long and fascinating history This landmark book chronicles for the first time the participation of Arizona women in the state s early politics Incorporating impressive original research Winning Their Place traces the roots of the political participation of women from the territorial period to after World War II Although women in Arizona first entered politics for traditional reasons to reform society and protect women and children they quickly realized that male politicians were uninterested in their demands Most suffrage activists were working professional women who understood that the work place discriminated against them In Arizona they won the vote because they demanded rights as working women and aligned with labor unions and third parties that sympathized with their cause After winning the vote the victorious suffragists ran for office because they believed men could not and would not represent their interests Through this process these Arizona women became excellent politicians Unlike women in many other states women in Arizona quickly carved out a place for themselves in local and state politics even without the support of the reigning Democratic Party and challenged men for county office the state legislature state office Congress and even for governor This fascinating book reveals how they shattered traditional notions about a woman s place and paved the way for future female politicians including the Fab Five and countless others who have changed the course of Arizona history McMullen Valley E.
