Angels In The Architecture A Photographic Elegy To An American Asylum:

Angels in the Architecture Heidi Johnson, 1999-07-01 Angels in the Architecture Heidi Johnson, 2004-02-20 An intimate photographic journey into 115 years of history inside a nineteenth century asylum In the nineteenth century perhaps no approach to mental illness was more compassionate than that of hospital administrator Thomas Story Kirkbride whose asylum designs integrated beauty and nature as a method to treat patients The Northern Michigan Asylum in Traverse City Michigan was one of the last of nearly two hundred such architecturally intriguing asylums Founded in 1885 under the principle beauty is therapy the Northern Michigan Asylum closed in 1989 and today stands as a haunting reminder of this lost era Angels in the Architecture is a photographic study of this institution s one hundred year history Heidi Johnson s photographs of the building today are juxtaposed with rare images from private collections and state archives Johnson has captured Kirkbride s spirit of compassion of angels in the architecture in a book that conveys the human element of mental illness with beauty and integrity Exhibiting Madness in Museums Catharine Coleborne, Dolly MacKinnon, 2012-06-12 This innovative collection of essays offers a comparative history of independent and institutional collections of psychiatric objects in Australia New Zealand Canada and the United Kingdom Leading scholars in the field investigate collectors collections their display and the reactions to exhibitions of the history of insanity Therapeutic Landscapes Allison Williams, 2017-05-15 The therapeutic landscape concept first introduced early in the 1990s has been widely employed in health medical geography and gaining momentum in various health related disciplines This is the first book published in several years and provides an introduction to the concept and its applications Written by health medical geographers and anthropologists it addresses contemporary applications in the natural and built environments for special populations such as substance abusers and in health care sites a new and evolving area and provides an array of critiques or contestations of the concept and its various applications The conclusion of the work provides a critical evaluation of the development and progress of the concept to date signposting the likely avenues for future investigation Bittersweet Memories Gary L. Lisman, Arlene Parr, 2005 This book seeks to understand what really happened at the Peoria State Hospital during its fascinating history and to do so as accurately as possible In the end the individual reader will be allowed to draw his or her own conclusions regarding the hospital and those who call it their home The Last Good Water Michael Delp, 2003 Table of contents Michigan's Early Military Forces Roger Rosentreter, 2003 Accompanying histories explain the reasons behind the conflicts and include maps showing all theaters of operations for Michigan troops The in depth accounts of the state s role in these hostilities often serve as the first serious and comprehensive studies of the contributions made by its citizens in these events BOOK JACKET Fired Magic Marcy Heller Fisher, 2003 Mary Chase Perry Stratton and Horace J Caulkins founded Detroit s Pewabic Pottery in 1903 during the height of the Arts and Crafts Movement Now celebrating its centennial Pewabic is one of the few historic art potteries still operating in the United States The pottery remains an integral part of artistic life in the Detroit area its presence in the city is underscored by such installations as the modern tile murals in Detroit s People Mover Stations the fairy tale friezes around fireplaces in area schools and mosaic tiled ceilings in museums and churches Fired Magic is the story of a child discovering the beauty of Pewabic tile installations in the metropolitan Detroit area Readers accompany the main character Angie on a tour of architecturally significant historic and contemporary tiled floors ceilings fountains fireplaces and other tile installations that grace the city and its environs such as Belle Isle Park the Detroit Institute of Arts Cranbrook Educational Community and the Detroit Zoo Readers also join Angie in taking a class at Pewabic Pottery where she learns to make tiles and other clay objects The book provides a glossary of ceramic terms and a comprehensive list of Pewabic installations around the United States so that readers may discover the beauty of Pewabic tile for themselves This is the second in a series of books celebrating the cultural heritage of Detroit and the Great Lakes Like the first in the series The Outdoor Museum The Magic of Michigan s Marshall M Fredericks Wayne State University Press 2001 this book is written for students from age 8 and above however it is enjoyable for art lovers of all ages Through its inviting tale and rich illustrations Fired Magic relates the history of Pewabic Pottery from its beginnings in the Arts and Crafts Movement and furthers the pottery s present day mission to support educate and foster appreciation for ceramic art

Bridging the River of Hatred Mary M. Stolberg,2002 Bridging the River of Hatred portrays the career of George Clifton Edwards Jr Detroit s visionary police commissioner whose efforts to bring racial equality minority recruiting and community policing to Detroit s police department in the early 1960s met with much controversy within the city s administration At a crucial time when the Civil Rights movement was gaining momentum and hostility between urban police forces and African Americans was close to eruption Edwards chose solving racial and urban problems as his mission Incorporating material from a manuscript that Edwards wrote before his death supplemented by historical research Stolberg provides a rare case study of problems in policing the impoverishment of American cities and the evolution of race relations during the turbulent 1960s Edwards vision and hope for Detroit gives depth to the national view of Detroit as a symbol of urban decline and offers lessons to be applied to current social and urban problems A Hanging in Detroit David Gardner Chardavoyne,2003-07-16 The first historical study and a riveting account of the last execution in Michigan On September 24 1830 Stephen G Simmons a fifty year old tavern keeper and farmer was hanged in Detroit for murdering his wife Levana Simmons in a drunken jealous rage Michigan executed only two people during the fifty year period from 1796 to 1846 when the death penalty was legal within its boundaries Simmons was the second and last person to be executed under Michigan law In A Hanging in Detroit David G Chardavoyne vividly evokes not only the crime trial and execution of Simmons but also the setting and players of the drama social and legal customs of the times and the controversy that arose because of the affair Chardavoyne illuminates his account of this important moment in Michigan s history with many little known facts creating a study that is at once an engrossing story and the first historical examination of the event that helped bring about the abolition of the death penalty in Michigan Simmons execution came at a time when Michigan had begun to change from a sparsely populated wilderness to a thriving agricultural center and Detroit from a small military outpost to a metropolis founded on trade manufacturing and an influx of immigrants and other settlers The hanging was a defining moment during this period of dramatic social change Thousands of spectators crowded into Detroit expecting to see a thrilling public execution Many of those spectators however left deeply disturbed by the spectacle they had witnessed Chardavoyne a lawyer probes the unsettling incident which sparked a profound shift in attitudes toward capital punishment in Michigan examining along the way such mysteries as why Simmons was hanged for his crime when other contemporary killers were hardly punished at all A Hanging in Detroit will fascinate legal historians and lay readers alike with its incisive look into Great Lakes regional history and crime and punishment in Michigan
