Animal Friends Of Grand Teton:

Animal Friends of Grand Teton Fran Hubbard, 1978 A children's guide to the many animal friends of the National Parks of the Grand Tetons Animals' Best Friends Barbara J. King, 2021-03-23 King's Animals Best Friends is the most comprehensive exploration I've read of the complex relationship between the human and nonhuman full of great insights and practical information Jeff VanderMeer New York Times Book Review By the Book Finalist for the 2021 Siskiyou Prize for New Environmental Literature As people come to understand more about animals inner lives the intricacies of their thoughts and the emotions that are expressed every day by whales and cows octopus and mice even bees we feel a growing compassion a desire to better their lives But how do we translate this compassion into helping other creatures both those that are and are not our pets Bringing together the latest science with heartfelt storytelling Animals Best Friends reveals the opportunities we have in everyday life to help animals in our homes in the wild in zoos and in science labs as well as those considered to be food Barbara J King an expert on animal cognition and emotion guides us on a journey both animal and deeply human We meet cows living relaxed lives in an animal sanctuary and cows with plastic portals in their sides at a university research station We observe bison free roaming at Yellowstone National Park and chimpanzees confined to zoos We learn with King how to negotiate vegetarian preferences in omnivore restaurants We experience the touch of a giant Pacific octopus tasting King's skin with one of his long neuron rich arms We reflect on animal testing as King shares her own experience as the survivor of a particularly nasty cancer And in a moment all too familiar to many of us we recover from a close encounter with two spiders in the home This is a book not of shaming and limitation but of uplift and expansion Throughout this journey King makes no claims of personal perfection Though an animal expert she is just like the rest of us on a journey still learning each day how to be better and do better for animals But as Animals Best Friends makes clear challenging choices can bring deep rewards By turning compassion into action on behalf of animals we not only improve animals lives we also immeasurably enrich our own A Bear Named 399 & Friends Dana Warnquist, 2017-04-20 In honor of 100 years of the National Park Service 2016 The story is about a young boy who explores two of the most beautiful National Parks Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks During his Summer vacation with his family he learns interesting facts about the parks and their geology as well as facts about some of the endangered wildlife that make their home in the parks as told by the most famous Grizzly Bear Bear 399 and her friends The book hopes to inspire the next generation to protect and conserve our wildlife and environment All proceeds from the sale of this book will be donated to environmental and wildlife conservation programs

Animal Kingdom , 1952 Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks (N.P.), Winter Use Plans , 2000 Reel Nature Gregg Mitman, 1999 Americans have had a long standing love affair with the wilderness As cities grew and frontiers disappeared film emerged to feed an insatiable curiosity about wildlife The camera promised to bring us into contact with the animal world undetected and unarmed Yet the camera's penetration of this world has inevitably brought human artifice and technology into the picture as well In the first major analysis of American nature films in the twentieth century Gregg Mitman shows how our cultural values scientific needs and new technologies produced the images that have shaped our contemporary view of wildlife Like the museum and the zoo the nature film sought to recreate the experience of unspoiled nature while appealing to a popular audience through a blend of scientific research and commercial promotion education and entertainment authenticity and artifice Travelogue expedition films like Teddy Roosevelt s African safari catered to upper and middle class patrons who were intrigued by the exotic and entertained by the thrill of big game hunting and collecting The proliferation of nature movies and television shows in the 1950s such as Disney s True Life Adventures and Marlin Perkins s Wild Kingdom made nature familiar and accessible to America s baby boom generation fostering the environmental activism of the latter part of the twentieth century Reel Nature reveals the shifting conventions of nature films and their enormous impact on our perceptions of and politics about the environment Whether crafted to elicit thrills or to educate audiences about the real life drama of threatened wildlife nature films then and now reveal much about the yearnings of Americans to be both close to nature and yet distinctly apart

Books in Print Supplement ,1984 The Animal Manifesto Marc Bekoff,2010 In this inspirational call to action Marc Bekoff the world s leading expert on animal emotions gently shows that improving our treatment of animals is a matter of rethinking our many daily decisions and expanding our compassion footprint He demonstrates that animals experience a rich range of emotions including empathy and compassion and that they clearly know right from wrong Driven by moral imperatives and pressing environmental realities Bekoff offers six compelling reasons for changing the way we treat animals whether they re in factory farms labs circuses or our vanishing wilderness The result is a well researched informative guide that will change animal and human lives for the better Our Animals ,1928
