Michael Spector, Barbara B. Lockee, Sharon Smaldino, Mary Herring, 2013-04-12 Learning Problem Solving and Mindtools is inspired by the substantial body of learning research by David H Jonassen in the areas of mind tools and problem solving The focus of the volume is on educational technology especially with regard to how new technologies have facilitated and supported problem solving and critical thinking Each chapter focuses on a particular aspect of learning with technology and elaborates the implications for the design and implementation of learning environments and activities aimed at improving the conceptualization of problems reasoning and higher order thinking and solving challenging problems This collection of scholarly essays provides a highly engaging treatment of using tools and technologies to improve problem solving multiple perspectives on integrating educational technology to support learning in complex and challenging problem solving domains guidance for the design of instruction to support problem solving a systemic account of the relationships between mental models instructional models and assessment models and a look into the future of educational technology research and practice Problem Solving in Mathematics Education Torsten Fritzlar,Daiela Assmus,Kerstin Bräuning,Ana Kuzle,Benjamin Rott,2016-06-30 From 3rd to 5th of September 2015 the 17th international ProMath conference Problem Solving in Mathematics Education took place at the Faculty of Education of the Martin Luther University Halle Wittenberg Germany For the first time it was combined with the annual meeting of the working group Problem Solving of the Society of Didactics of Mathematics This book contains 20 peer reviewed articles of researchers from five European countries The topics of the papers evolved around different areas of learning and problem solving There are some theoretical papers on problem oriented mathematics instruction and specific aspects of problem solving and creativity as well as reports on detailed studies of problem solving processes of pupils and preservice teachers Authors also present experiences with real problem solving instruction in different countries considerations and teaching experiments on didactic concepts to foster pupils problem solving abilities and they describe mathematically rich problem fields and their potentials for mathematical investigations in class ProMath is a group of experienced and early career researchers in the field of mathematics education who are interested in investigating and fostering mathematical problem solving and problem oriented mathematics teaching Mathematical Problem Solving and New Information Technologies Joao P. Ponte,Joao F. Matos,Jose M. Matos,Domingos Fernandes,2013-06-29 A strong and fluent competency in mathematics is a necessary condition for scientific technological and economic progress However it is widely recognized that problem solving reasoning and thinking processes are critical areas in which students performance lags far behind what should be expected and desired Mathematics is indeed an important subject but is also important to be able to use it in extra mathematical contexts Thinking strictly in terms of mathematics or thinking in terms of its relations with the real world involve quite different processes and issues This book includes the revised papers presented at the NATO ARW Information Technology and Mathematical Problem Solving Research held in April 1991 in Viana do Castelo Portugal which focused on the implications of computerized learning environments and cognitive psychology research for these mathematical activities In recent years several committees professional associations and distinguished individuals throughout the world have put forward proposals to renew mathematics curricula all emphasizing the importance of problem solving In order to be successful these reforming intentions require a theory driven research base But mathematics problem solving may be considered a chaotic field in which progress has been quite slow Books in Print ,1991
