British Cinema In The 1960s An Educational Resource:

British Cinema in the 1960s Wendy Hewing, 2003-07-04 This guide explores the British New Wave and complements the bfi's re-release on video and DVD of three key British New Wave films Saturday Night and Sunday Morning, A Taste of Honey and The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner. It includes 2 sets of notes: teaching notes and student notes. The British Consumer Co-operative Movement and Film, 1890s-1960s Alan Burton, 2005-09-03 This volume provides a new study on the Co-operative Movement's engagement with film for educational, cultural and publicity purposes. It provides insights into the political and commercial use of cinema in the 20th century and significantly extends our understanding of the achievements of workers' cinema in Britain. Transformation and Tradition in 1960s British Cinema Richard Farmer, 2019-05-03 Making substantial use of new and underexplored archive resources that provide a wealth of information and insight on the period in question, this book offers a fresh perspective on the major resurgence of creativity and international appeal experienced by British cinema in the 1960s. The History of British Literature on Film, 1895-2015 Greg M. Colón Semenza, Bob Hasenfratz, Robert J. Hasenfratz, 2017-01-26 From The Death of Nancy Sykes (1897) to The Hobbit, The Battle of the Five Armies (2014) and beyond, cinematic adaptations of British literature participate in a complex and fascinating history. The History of British Literature on Film, 1895-2015 is the only comprehensive narration of cinema's 100-year-old love affair with British literature. Unlike previous studies of literature and film which tend to privilege particular authors such as Shakespeare and Jane Austen or particular texts such as Frankenstein or particular literary periods such as Medieval, this volume considers the multiple functions of filmed British literature as a cinematic subject in its own right, one reflecting the specific political and aesthetic priorities of different national and historical cinemas. In what ways has the British literary canon authorized and influenced the history and aesthetics of film, and in what ways has filmed British literature both affirmed and challenged the very idea of literary canonicity? Seeking to answer these and other key questions, this indispensable study shows how these adaptations emerged from and continue to shape the social, artistic and commercial aspects of film history. Sixties British Cinema Robert Murphy, 2019-07-25 British films of the 1960s are undervalued. Their search for realism has often been dismissed as drabness, and their more frivolous efforts can now appear just empty-headed. Robert Murphy's Sixties British Cinema is the first study to challenge this view. He shows that the realist tradition of the late 50s and early 60s was anything but dreary and depressing, and gave birth to a clutch of films remarkable for their confidence and vitality. Saturday Night and Sunday Morning, A Kind of Loving and A Taste of Honey are only the better-known titles. Sixties British Cinema revalues key genres of the period: horror, crime and comedy, and takes a fresh look at the swinging London films, finding disturbing undertones that reflect the cultural changes of the decade. Now that our cinematic past is constantly recycled on television, Murphy's informative, engaging and perceptive review of these films and their cultural and industrial context offers an invaluable guide to this neglected era of British cinema. British Literature of the Blitz K.

Miller,2008-12-18 British Literature of the Blitz interrogates the patriotic utopian ideal of the People s War by analyzing conflicted representations of class and gender in literature and film Its subtitle Fighting the People s War describes how British citizens both united to fight Nazi Germany and questioned the nationalist ideology binding them together A Dictionary of Cultural and Critical Theory Michael Payne,Jessica Rae Barbera,2013-05-06 Now thoroughly updated and revised this new edition of the highly acclaimed dictionary provides an authoritative and accessible guide to modern ideas in the broad interdisciplinary fields of cultural and critical theory Updated to feature over 40 new entries including pieces on Alain Badiou Ecocriticism Comparative Racialization Ordinary Language Philosophy and Criticism and Graphic Narrative Includes reflective broad ranging articles from leading theorists including Julia Kristeva Stanley Cavell and Simon Critchley Features a fully updated bibliography Wide ranging content makes this an invaluable dictionary for students of a diverse range of disciplines Teaching Contemporary British Cinema Sarah Casey Benyahia,2005-05-18 A clear and easy to use guide for introducing this fascinating topic into the classroom British Comedy Cinema I. Q. Hunter,Laraine Porter,2012 This work explores the history of British comedy from silent slapstick and satire to contemporary romantic comedy The essays include case studies on prominent personalities and exploration of production cycles and studio output Films discussed in the work include Sing As We Go The Ladykillers Trouble in Stone The Carry Ons Till Death Us Do Part Monty Python s Life of Brian Notting Hill and Sex Lives of the Potato Men British Cinema Amy Sargeant,2019-07-25 Although new writing and research on British cinema has burgeoned over the last fifteen years there has been a continued lack of single authored books providing a coherent overview to this fascinating and elusive national cinema Amy Sargeant s personal and entertaining history of British cinema aims to fill this gap With its insightful decade by decade analysis British Cinema is brought alive for a new generation of British cinema students and the general reader alike Sargeant challenges Rachel Low s premise that few of the films made in England during the twenties were any good by covering subjects as diverse as the art of intertitling the narrative complexities of Shooting Stars and Brunel s burlesques Sargeant goes onto examine among other things the differing acting styles of Dietrich and Donat in the seminal Knight Without Armour to early promotional campaigns in the 1930s whereas subjects ranging from product endorsement by stars to the character of the suburban wife are covered in the 1940s The 1950s includes topics such as the effect of post war government intervention to Free Cinema and Lindsay Anderson s infuriating lapses of rigour together with a much needed overview of Michael Balcon s contribution to British cinema For Sargeant the 1960s provides an overview of the tentative relationship between film and advertising and the rise of young Turks such as Tony Richardson Ken Loach Donald Cammell and Nicolas Roeg
