British Relations With China 1931-1939:

British Relations with China: 1931-1939 Irving Sigmund Friedman, 1974      British Relations with China 1931-1939, 1950      Britain and East Asia 1933-1937 Ann Trotter, 1975-04-24 This is a study of Britain's attempts after the Manchurian crisis of 1931 to redefine her aims in east Asia and to develop a viable policy of friendship towards China and goodwill towards Japan. The author emphasizes the part played by economic problems, pacifist sentiment and the failure of the disarmament conference in influencing the thinking of policy makers and discusses Britain's dilemma of trying to provide for defence in Europe while maintaining the facade of an imperial power. Although Britain did not seek to challenge Japan's China policy, she was not prepared to give Japan a free hand in China or to grant concessions elsewhere. In practice, British attempts to rehabilitate China appeared as a challenge to Japan. This was particularly true of the Leith Ross mission in China in 1935, which is considered in detail in this book.      Sino-British Negotiations and the Search for a Post-War Settlement, 1942-1949 Zhaodong Wang, 2022-03-21 The book is a systematic study of the China-Britain relationship during the 1942-1949 period with a particular focus on the two countries' discussions over both the 1943 Sino-British treaty and the discarded Sino-British commercial treaty, the future of Hong Kong and the political status of Tibet. These were dominated by two underlying themes: the elimination of the British imperialist position in China and the establishment of an equal and reciprocal bilateral relationship. The negotiations started promisingly in 1942-1943 but by 1949 had failed to reach a satisfactory settlement. Behind the failure lay a complex set of domestic considerations and external factors, including the powerful influence of the United States. Even after seven decades, the failure still has a contemporary impact. Recent Sino-British disputes over the Hong Kong Anti-Extradition Law Amendment Bill Movement and incessant Indo-Chinese conflicts and skirmishes over their unsettled borders all attest to the enduring legacy of the years 1942-1949 as setting the scene for subsequent Sino-British and Sino-Indian relations. From this perspective, the history has never left us.      China, Britain and Hong Kong, 1895-1945 Kit-ching Chan Lau, 1990      Modern England, 1901-1984 Alfred F. Havighurst, 2004-07-08 The most comprehensive bibliography of printed books, articles and standard texts on twentieth-century England.      A History of Modern Shanghai Banking: The Rise and Decline of China's Financial Capitalism Ji Zhaojin, 2016-07-08 As the center of capitalism in China, Shanghai banking provides a unique perspective for assessing the impact of the changes from financial capitalism to socialist planning banking in the early 1950s and for evaluating the reform of China's banking system since the 1980s. This book offers a comprehensive history of Shanghai banking and capital markets from 1842 to 1952 and illustrates the non-financial elements that contributed to the revolutionary social and financial changes since the 1950s as well as financial experiences that are significant to China's economic development today. The book describes the rise and fall of China's traditional native banks, the establishment of foreign banks and the creation of modern state banks while focusing on the colorful world of banking, finance and international relations in modern Shanghai. It assesses the Chinese government s intervention in banking and finance during the Qing dynasty and the Republican era as well as the concept of state capitalism after the establishment of the People's Republic The author examines various modern style Chinese banks through fascinating stories of Shanghai bankers In addition she provides detailed coverage of market oriented international trade banking associations the conflicts between state and society the government involvement in business the management of foreign exchange joint venture banks wartime banking and finance hyperinflation corruption and banking nationalization

Origins of the War in the East Aron Shai, 2010-10-18 This study describes the British government's policy towards China during the first phases of the undeclared Sino Japanese war starting in July 1937 when the conflict in North China culminated in all out hostilities and ending in September 1939 when the outbreak of the war over Poland forced the British government to turn almost all its attention to Europe The dilemmas confronting British policy makers in the Far East are analysed together with the implementation of their subsequent solutions Attention is focused on the question of British interests in China and on the decisive factors and considerations which determined British policy and Britain's role in the Sino Japanese war Questions concerning the safety of the British subjects and the commercial community in China and their influence on the decision making process the attitude towards Soviet influence in China and prospects of Communist take over are also discussed In the final analysis the book examines the widely debated subject of appeasement in its Asian context It is argued that Britain pursued a policy towards Japan which gained strength without producing a Far Eastern Munich

Modern England 1901-1970 Alfred Havighurst, 1976-05-13 This is a comprehensive bibliography of all printed books articles and standard texts on England Ireland Scotland the Commonwealth and the colonies up to 1970 This handbook will serve as a useful guide to scholars teachers at all levels advanced students and the general reader interested in examining the period in some depth

The China Incident G. William Whitehurst, 2021-01-06 In 1937 Japan blundered into a debilitating war with China beginning with a minor incident near Peking now Beijing that quickly escalated The Japanese won significant battles and captured the capital Nanking after a horrific massacre of its citizens Chiang Kai shek China's acknowledged leader would not surrender each side believed it could win a war of attrition The U S sided with China primarily because of President Roosevelt's personal bias in their favor Drawing on a wealth of sources including interviews with key players from soldiers to diplomats this history traces America's unexpected and unpopular involvement in an Asian conflict and the growing recognition of Japan's threat to world peace and the inevitability of war
