

MHR 2000 Module 1
Review Sheet for Exam 1

CHAPTER 1: GLOBALIZATION

We cover virtually all of Chapter 1 topics, except the ones asterisked (*). Please note from the box above what will not be on the exam.

Sections you must know:

- Introduction
- What is globalization?- Trend away from distinct national economic units and towards one huge global market.
 - The globalization of markets- moving away from an economic system in which national markets are distinct entities and towards a system in which national markets are merging into one global market.
 - The globalization of production- trend by individual firms to disperse parts of the productive process to different locations around the globe to take advantage of national differences in cost & quality of factors of production (inputs into the production process, land, labor, capital, etc.)
- The emergence of global institutions (know all five)
 - General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT)- international treaty that committed signatories to lowering barriers to the free flow of goods across national borders and led to the WTO.
 - World Trade Organization (WTO)- organization that succeeded the GATT as a result of the successful completion of the Uruguay Round of GATT negotiations.
 - International Monetary Fund (IMF) – International institution set up to maintain order in the international monetary system.
 - World Bank- International organization set up to promote general economic development in the world's poorer nations.
 - United Nations- An international organization made of 191 countries, headquartered in New York, formed in 1945 to promote peace, security and cooperation.
- Drivers of globalization
 - Declining Trade & Investment Barriers
 - After WWII many industrial nations committed to removing barriers to trade.
 - Removing barriers was enshrined in the GATT and later the WTO.
 - In addition to reducing trade barriers, many countries have also been progressively removing restrictions to foreign direct investment.
 - The Role of Technological Change
 - Since WWII, the world has seen major advances in communication, information processing, and transportation technology, including the Internet & World Wide Web.
