Bringing Learning To Life Stories Of Change And Transformation Inspired By Reggio Emilia:

Bringing Learning to Life Louise Boyd Cadwell, 2003 Building on her enormously popular book Bringing Reggio Emilia Home Louise Cadwell helps American educators understand what it means to use ideas from the Reggio Approach in their classrooms In new and dynamic ways Cadwell once again takes readers inside the day to day practice of a group of early childhood educators This time she describes the growth and evolution of the work in the St Louis Reggio Collaborative over the past 10 years Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 2003 Bibliographic Guide to Education 2003 GK Hall, 2004-10 The Bibliographic Guide to Education lists recent publications cataloged during the past year by Teachers College Columbia University supplemented by publications in the field of education cataloged by The Research Libraries of The New York Public Library selected on the basis of subject headings Non book materials including theses are included in this Guide with the exception of serials All aspects and levels of education are represented in this Guide including such areas as American elementary and secondary education higher and adult education early childhood education history and philosophy of education applied pedagogy international and comparative education educational administration education of the culturally disadvantaged and physically handicapped nursing education and education of minorities and women Also well covered are the administrative reports of departments of education for various countries and for U S states and large cities The Teachers College collection covers over 200 distinct educational systems Works in all languages are included The Bibliographic Guide to Education serves in part as an annual supplement to the Dictionary Catalog of the Teachers College Library Columbia University G K Hall Second Supplement 1973 Third Supplement 1977 Books in Print Supplement ,2002

Transformative Change and Real Utopias in Early Childhood Education Peter Moss, 2014-04-24 Early childhood education and care is a major policy issue for national governments and international organisations This book contests two stories both infused by neoliberal thinking that dominate early childhood policy making today the story of quality and high returns and the story of markets stories that promise high returns on investment if only the right technologies are applied to children and the perfection of a system based on competition and individual choice But there are alternative stories and this book tells one a story of democracy experimentation and potentiality in which early childhood centres are public spaces and public resources places where democracy and experimentation are fundamental values community workshops for realising the potentiality of citizens This story calls for transformative change but offers a real utopia both viable and achievable The book discusses some of the conditions needed for the story s enactment and shows what it means in practice in a chapter about project work contributed by a Swedish preschool teacher Critical but hopeful this book is an important contribution to resisting the dictatorship of no alternative and renewing a democratic politics of early childhood education It is essential reading for students and teachers researchers and other academics and for all other concerned citizens Rooted in Belonging Melissa Sherfinski, 2023 Most practitioners and scholars agree that critical and reflective early childhood and elementary teachers are foundational for children's holistic growth and development. Yet current policies focused on elevating testing and performativity are contributing to student and teacher anxiety and alienation. This book offers a counternarrative to neoliberal standardized preservice teacher development and assessment processes. The author examines how a cohort of teacher educators worked alongside their preservice teachers, both groups predominately White and female, to redesign their teacher education program. Sherfinski reveals how the narrative portfolio, an inquiry-based alternative to accreditation and standards-based assessments, was designed to locally document, resist, and disrupt the status quo. The narrative portfolio speaks back to standardized preservice teacher assessments by providing spaces for teacher candidates to demonstrate their knowledge of theory and practice as enacted in the natural settings of school and community. Rooted in Belonging shows why humanizing democratic place-based practices should be at the forefront of teacher education. Book Features: Provides a rare portrait of equity-based teacher education at the confluence of place-based approaches, student diversity, and teacher education. Grapples with tough issues such as how the shared Whiteness of preservice teachers and children and their families play out alongside their differences. Explores how educators negotiate deep ideological differences while still preparing teachers for critical work. Examines how the current political climate around Black Lives Matters, the 2020 presidential election, and the COVID-19 pandemic contribute to the challenges of working in communities. Discusses how race, space, time, and settler colonialism shape the work of preservice teachers and their teacher educators. Shares action research and teacher leadership assignments, critical thinking and planning exercises, personal reflections, and preservice teachers' narrative portfolio artifacts.

An Emergent Curriculum for the Early Years in Malta Charmaine Bonello, Anna Baldacchino, Carmen Dalli, 2024-12-31 This book charts the firsthand experiences and challenges faced by Maltese early childhood educators in the implementation of a novel approach to the curriculum: the replacement of a prescriptive curricula with one co-constructed by the educator and the child. Chapters provide seven contextualised inspiring narratives of how the emergent curriculum approach was implemented, received, and reflected upon within Maltese educational settings ranging from childcare (0-3 years), kindergarten (3-5 years), and early primary (5-7 years). Packed with practical guidance along with on-the-ground commentary, this volume showcases the pedagogical and professional transformation of these educators, informing and encouraging reflection as well as inspiring others on a global scale. Challenging the established modes and traditions of pedagogical best practice, this book ultimately fills a gap in research on how educators in diverse local contexts and cultures can embrace the global concept of the emergent curriculum within their own practice and settings. Providing pedagogical and professional insights for early years educators in similar contexts internationally, the book will be of interest to researchers and early childhood educators as well as curriculum designers and policy makers interested in how the curriculum can take shape in different cultures and contexts.

Under-three Year Olds in Policy and Practice E. Jayne White, Carmen Dalli, 2016-10-19 The first book in the series Policy and Pedagogy with Under three year olds. Cross-Disciplinary insights and innovations establishes a path for the much needed examination of the experiences of infants and toddlers in contemporary educational settings across the globe Bringing together internationally renowned scholars in the field it starts a series of discussions about the positioning of under three year olds in contemporary practice and policy contexts It takes an in depth look at what this means for our understanding of under three year olds and those who share their worlds Featuring some of the most important contemporary topics in this pedagogical domain such as care well being belonging professionalism and status the contributors offer a kaleidoscope of perspectives for contemplating the new normality of very young children living their lives in group based early childhood settings and what gives rise to their current realities It also explores some important policy directions and trends

The Hundred Languages of Children Carolyn Edwards, Lella Gandini, George Forman, 2011-12-13 Why does the city of Reggio Emilia in northern Italy feature one of the best public systems of early education in the world This book documents the comprehensive and innovative approach that utilizes the hundred languages of children to support their well being and foster their intellectual development Educators in Reggio Emilia Italy use a distinctive innovative approach that supports children's well being and fosters their intellectual development through a systematic focus on symbolic representation From birth through age six young children are encouraged to explore their environment and express their understanding through many modes of expression or languages including verbal communication movement drawing painting sculpture shadow play collage and music This organic strategy has been shown to be highly effective as the children in Reggio Emilia display surprising examples of symbolic skill and creativity This book describes how the world renowned preschool services and accompanying practical strategies for children under six in Reggio Emilia have evolved in response to the community's demographic and political transformations and to generational changes in both the educators and the parents of the children The authors provide the reader with a comprehensive introduction to the Reggio Emilia experience and address three of the most important central themes of the work in Reggio in detail teaching and learning through relationships the hundred languages of children and how this concept has evolved and integrating documentation into the process of observing reflecting and communicating

New Images of Thought in the Study of Childhood Drawing Laura Trafí-Prats, Christopher M. Schulte, 2022-10-21 This book provides a revitalised account of the study of children's drawing by outlining a departure from existing approaches privileging developmentalist accounts and presenting drawing as a specialised human endeavour separated from other material entanglements constituting children's everyday experiences The book takes on current developments in the fields of early childhood arts and early childhood literacies to advocate for process oriented new materialist and decolonial approaches that reconceptualise the study of children's drawing It proposes a future oriented approach centred on thinking experimentally with a focus on nonrepresentational elements such as movement sensation intensity rhythm story and place which singularly assemble in drawing events Thus the book discusses drawing as a process of sense making that is not enclosed in the individualised body of the child and that unfolds corporeally in time and space It revises the relation of drawing with symbolisation by suggesting that the use of language and signs in drawing form in entanglement with matter and sensation in processes of creative speculation connected with the movement of thought Presenting a series of contributions by internationally recognised scholars and artists the book aims to create synergies between theory and practice that speak of everyday realities interconnecting children learning and sense making
