British And Irish Literature And Its Times The Victorian Era To The Present 1837

Richard J. Finneran

British And Irish Literature And Its Times The Victorian Era To The Present 1837 :

British and Irish Literature and Its Times Joyce Moss, 2001 Examines the relationship between the political social climate during which books were written and the works themselves This volume focuses on major fiction poetry and nonfiction from Great Britain and Ireland from the Victorian Era to the present

Irish Literature Mary Ketsin, 2004 Irish literature's roots have been traced to the 7th 9th century This is a rich and hardy literature starting with descriptions of the brave deeds of kings saints and other heroes These were followed by generous veins of religious historical genealogical scientific and other works The development of prose poetry and drama raced along with the times Modern well known Irish writers include William Yeats James Joyce Sean Casey George Bernard Shaw Oscar Wilde John Synge and Samuel Beckett

Yeats Richard J. Finneran, 2003-10-28 The most recent volume of this distinguished annual

The Undergraduate's Companion to African Writers and Their Web Sites Miriam E. Conteh-Morgan, 2005-10-30 Now a firmly established part of world literature course offerings in many general education curricula African literature is no longer housed exclusively with African Studies programs and is often studied in English French Portuguese Women's Studies and Comparative Studies departments This book helps fill the great need for research materials on this topic presenting the best resources available for 300 African writers These writers have been carefully selected to include both well known writers and those less commonly studied yet highly influential They are drawn from both the Sub Sahara and the Maghreb the major geographical regions of Africa The study of Africa was introduced into the curriculum of institutions of higher learning in the United States in the 1960s when the Black Consciousness movement in the United States and the Cold War and decolonization movements in Africa created a need for the systematic study of other regions of the world Between 1986 and 1991 three Africans won Nobel literature prizes Soyinka Mahfouz and Gordimer and the visibility of African writers increased They are now a firmly established part of world literature courses in many general education curricula throughout North America African Writers is meant to serve as a resource for introductory material on 300 writers from 39 countries These writers were selected on the basis on two criteria that there is material on them in an easily available reference work and that there is some information of research value on free Web sites Each writer is from the late 19th or 20th century with the notable exception of Olaudah Equiano an 18th century African whose slave narrative is generally considered the first work of African literature All entries are annotated

Irish Novelists and the Victorian Age James H. Murphy, 2011-01-13 This is the first comprehensive study of the neglected Irish writers of the Victorian age whose work was highly popular with the British reading audience and therefore disparaged and largely forgotten from the era of W B Yeats and the Irish Literary Revival with its culturally nationalist agenda onwards It is based on a reading of around 370 novels by 150 authors including William Carleton the peasant novelist who wielded much influence and Charles Lever whose serious work was destroyed by the slur of rollicking as well as Joseph Sheridan LeFanu George Moore Emily Lawless Somerville and Ross Bram Stoker and three of the leading authors from the new woman movement Sarah Grand Iota and George Egerton James H Murphy examines their writing in a variety of contexts the political economic and cultural developments of the time the vicissitudes of the reading audience the realities of a publishing industry that was for the most part London based the often difficult circumstances of the lives of the novelists and the ever changing genre of the novel itself to which Irish authors often made a contribution Politics history religion gender and particularly land over which nineteenth century Ireland was deeply divided featured as key themes for fiction Finally the book engages with the critical debate of recent times concerning the supposed failure of realism in the nineteenth century Irish novel looking for deeper causes than have hitherto been offered and discovering occasions on which realism turned out to be possible American Reference Books Annual, 2002 Bohdan S. Wymar, Libraries

Unlimited, 2002-05 This source of information on contemporary American reference works is intended for the library and information community It has nearly 1600 descriptive and evaluative entries and reviews material from more than 300 publishers in nearly 500 subject areas It should help the user keep abreast of reference publications in all fields answer everyday questions and build up reference collections El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2005, 2005 Bowker's Best Reference Books: Author index.
